'Rube Day' Is Held

500 STUDENTS PROTEST FLAGLESS SCHOOL

High school pupils, including the three lively youngsters shown in the accompanying photograph, today were getting quite a thrill out of "rube day," which was the occasion for a great deal of innocent sport at the Pine street seat of learning. Some weird costumes were to be seen on the campus and in the assembly hall. The jolly little "rube" on the left is Kathleen Trago, president of the Girls' League. Alleen Shipp, sitting beside her, is prominent in high school dramatics. Carl Black, star football player and president of the student body, is seated below the two girls.

HARDING JAUNT PLAN NEARING COMPLETION

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Harding's plans for his Alaskan trip, which have undergone complete revision, were approaching completion today.
Mr. Harding will make at least half his trip by water, thereby eliminating many of the speeches he would have to deliver, were the outgoing journey and the return both made overland.
It has not been definitely determined whether he will go west via the Panama Canal or return that way. He will visit the canal, however, at some stage of the trip.
The decision to eliminate one leg of the long overland train trip is part of the President's determination that the journey shall not be turned into a political junket.
An early announcement of the itinerary is expected. According to tentative plans drawn up after the original itinerary had been thoroughly revised, the president and Mrs. Harding will leave here between June 15 and June 20 and will return some time in August.

Banks Seek to Keep Saunders in Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11.—Memphis bankers and officials of the Chamber of Commerce met today in a new effort to keep Clarence Saunders and Piggly Wiggly in the home town.
Saunders at the same time negotiated with financiers of other cities for a location for Piggly Wiggly.
The fighting Piggly Wiggly magnate had a brisk fight yesterday which followed Saunders' announcement that the campaign to sell 50,000 shares of stock in Memphis had ended in failure.
According to witnesses, Saunders and Robert Ellis, local banker, came to blows.

Women Urge Tribunal To Settle Disputes

ATLANTA, Ga., May 11.—The General Federation of Women's Clubs, in biennial council here today, voted unanimously in favor of a resolution approving settlement of international questions "through a judicial tribunal," and expressing opposition to all wars.
The organization represents two million club women in the United States.

The high school was alive with them all day today.
From the opening of school this morning until the conclusion of the baseball game with Fullerton this afternoon high school students were having one great big day of fun.
The theory that the modern youth loves his Rodolph Valentino clothes and hair varnish, and the flapper her flapperish clothes, was all exploded when it became evident that the attire of the rube takes the prize for popularity, comfort and fun.
From the dignified president of the student body and the football captain, down to the youngest freshmen, those otherwise serious minded, neatly-attired students appeared today in all combinations of clothes from overalls and gingham dresses to freak costumes.
The order and regular work of the classrooms went on as usual, but the minute the classes were over the fun began.
The last period of the school day was given over to a rube assembly, when the rubiest rubes of the day passed in review on the stage amid a howl of laughter from the delighted student body.
The assembly was featured by stunts put on by the clubs of the school, one of the best being the one presented by the Athens club.
Not the least of the day's events was the big baseball game with Fullerton, when the rubes appeared to cheer for the home team. It was found that rubes can do some cheering.
It is the opinion that such a day as this rube day, orderly, and full of fun, promotes the general spirit of community feeling and friendship, both between teachers and students and among the students. Members of the faculty entered wholeheartedly into the success of the day.

Charge Secret Passage In Cult Leader Probe
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 11.—Charges that secret chambers and passageways existed in the House of David for use of "King" Benjamin Purnell and other cult leaders were investigated today by Judge J. Harry Dingeman's "one man" grand jury. Phillip Klum, the contractor who built Shiloh, Purnell's residence, was summoned to disclose whether the cult's "King" could be hiding in a secret apartment at the colony.
Following testimony of Louise Hager Johnson, Hula Hula dancer until recently at Eden Springs, the cult's famous amusement resort, other witnesses will be summoned to ascertain whether Benjamin now demands a "white wash" affidavit from women members when they leave the colony, authorities announced.

ASSEMBLYMEN HONOR THREE COLLEAGUES

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 11.—Members of the assembly turned aside from the last-minute rush of law making today long enough to express their appreciation for the good services rendered by three men occupying a leading part in the session's activities.
Speaker Frank Merriam, Long Beach, was presented with a valuable silver set, while speaker pro-tem Frank Anderson, Oakland, was also given a silver remembrance of the session.
Merriam was "arrested" and haled before the assembly on a charge of not having given Assemblyman Dozier, one of the most valuable lower house members, time to air his views. The "charge" against Anderson was having been a member of the assembly for five consecutive sessions.
Chief Clerk Arthur Opinus was given a suitable token for his work as right hand man of the house.
Proceeding the presentations, the assembly passed the Cleary bill providing for the establishment of mine rescue stations. Seven minor claim measures were also approved.
The assembly file today held the Dennett bill, providing for release of school children two hours a week for religious instruction. The measure, originally defeated in the senate, was re-considered and passed late yesterday.
The assembly sent to the senate today a bill by McDowell appropriating $50,000 for additional land at the Fresno teachers' college. The measure passed the lower house late last night.
Faced with the possibility of forcing scores of bills to die for lack of time to consider them, the assembly today began a session which it was thought might run through the night and continue tomorrow.
Bills Pile Up.
With other legislation held up because of the prolonged contest over the biennial budget, the lower house file had been piling up until it had well over a hundred bills ready for final passage.
Less than 35 hours remain to act on all that will be approved by the forty fifth legislature. With adjournment of the assembly tomorrow there will be no further opportunity for consideration of measures originating in that house, as all next week must be given over to passage of senate bills.

SHOOTING OF 3 RUSSIANS PROTESTED

Moscow Charges Attack on Soviet Delegates Known
To Swiss Government

BERLIN, May 11.—Russia's representatives at the Lausanne conference have handed a note to the Swiss government formally accusing Switzerland of failing to take precautions to prevent the lives of Vorovsky, Ahrens and Dibrikovsky, after being notified an attack on the Soviet delegates was planned.
The Russian note says the allies will be held morally responsible for the death of Vorovsky and the wounding of the others by a former officer of the czar's army last night.

LAUSANNE, May 11.—"I'm glad I had my revenge!" Maurice Conradi, former officer in the czar's army, who late yesterday threw the Lausanne conference into consternation by assassinating M. Vorovsky, Russian delegate, mortally wounding the latter's secretary and shooting another Russian, made this statement as part of a lengthy plea before an examining magistrate today.
Conradi charged the Bolsheviks with torturing his aged parents and two of his sons, who, he said, died of starvation and cruel treatment in Russia after the revolution.
Surrenders After Shooting
In the dining room of the hotel Cecil last evening, after having consumed numerous brandies, Conradi drew a revolver and, approaching the table where Vorovsky, Ahrens, chief of the Russian Telegraph agency, and Dibrikovsky, the former's secretary, were seated, shot them down with six bullets. He then surrendered.

It was reported that fascist had perpetrated the assassination of Vorovsky who was soviet representative to Italy, a strong figure in the background of Russian affairs, negotiator of the Russo-Italian trade agreement.
Swiss fascist organizations, however, disclaimed any knowledge of the incident, although they admitted having ordered Vorovsky and the other Bolsheviks to leave Switzerland. This latter had contemplated doing this week end. The head of the fascist said after the shooting that the order had been withdrawn.

Moscow Protest Expected
Strong protest from the government at Moscow is looked for. The Russians are expected to charge Switzerland with not furnishing sufficient protection for the Soviet emissaries.
President Motta of Switzerland has issued a statement regretting the disturbance and hoping the Bolsheviks will not indulge in reprisals.

Address By Legion Leader
Rapping Absence of U. S.
Emblem Brings Results

(By United Press Leased Wire)
TRINIDAD, Colo., May 11.—Five hundred high school students, carrying small American flags and giving school "yells," paraded the streets of Trinidad today, refusing to attend classes until the American flag was hoisted over the high school building.
All because Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, told them yesterday that he wouldn't attend any school that failed to fly the flag over the building.

Owsley, here on his Western trip, noticed the absence of the flag as he entered the building and told the students in his address what he thought of the omission.
Today the entire student body marched through the streets with flags, called at the various grade schools and told the pupils what Owsley said.
School heads pleaded in vain with students to come to class in flagless buildings.
"No flag, no class," was the slogan adopted.

It is expected the authorities, who point out that the flag is raised over public buildings only on certain days of the year, will capitulate in order to continue high school work.
Citizens are with the students, who are unanimously in favor of Owsley.

PASADENA, May 11.—"Scientists here have been unable to confirm the experiments of Edgar L. Hollingshead, who claims to have discovered a new ray, the so-called 'Odic ray,'" stated Professor R. W. Sorenson of the California Institute of Technology today.
"An investigation of Hollingshead's experiments was made by a number of Mount Wilson observatory scientists. The results of Hollingshead's work were shown to them, but no demonstrations of scientific standing could be advanced by him to back them up."

NEW YORK, May 11.—George Harvey, American ambassador to the court of St. James, arriving today from London, answered the resolution introduced in the New York and Massachusetts state assemblies demanding his recall for pro-British tendencies with the remark: "I am an American, but not a damned fool."

VENICE, Calif., May 11.—The body of an infant girl was found this morning in the surf near Playa Del Rey by Edward Clarke. There were no identification marks on the child nor signs of violence. Physicians said the body had been in the water eight days.

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Mrs. Luther Kennett of San Diego, won the women's Southern California golf championship this afternoon when she defeated Miss Doreen Kavanaugh, 2 and 1.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—President Harding today named R. M. Barton a member of the public group of the railroad labor board. E. F. Grable as a member of the labor group and Howard Baker to the management group. Barton and Baker were re-appointed. Grable was formerly grand president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railway Shop Laborers.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 11.—Eleven home runs in a single game—believed to be a new major league record—were made during the nine innings of the Philadelphia-St. Louis Nationals clash here this afternoon. Cy Williams, the Phil slugger, knocked three of them and brought his total for the season to 12.

STOCKTON, May 11.—Mrs. Hugh Bradford of Sacramento was elected president of the California Mothers and Parent-Teacher association today, over Mrs. Charles F. Gray of Los Angeles. The contest developed into a spirited sectional struggle following the elimination of Mrs. H. R. Archibald of Pasadena last night.

Ban On Imports of Arms to China Urged by Sze

WASHINGTON, May 11.—An agreement by the great powers to prevent shipment of arms to China should be brought about at once, as a result of the kidnapping of foreigners in Shantung, Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to the United States, said here today.

Sze said that the Mauser firearms, which dispatches stated the bandits were carrying, were not made in China. Until foreign firearms are kept out, he said, suppression of banditry will be hampered.

Chinese Brigands Treated Her Respectfully, She Says After She Is Released.

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
PEKIN, May 11.—Dressing behind a wall of blankets held by respectful Chinese brigands, sheltering from a hail storm in a dog kennel so small her bare feet stuck out, munching the wafer-like bean cakes with which the captives were fed, and talking merrily with laughing children of the bandits—such were some of the experiences described by Lucy Aldrich, sister-in-law of John D. Rockefeller Jr., upon her arrival here.
Miss Aldrich, who was permitted to escape from the brigands who wrecked and robbed a crack express Sunday morning, won the reputation among her captors, she said, of being a "good sport."
She, in turn, says the bandits were gallant, that they treated her with respect and that nothing can dissuade her

ATTORNEY SAYS MADALYNE IS PLOT VICTIM

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Attorney William Beirns, representing Madalynne Obenchain, said today that he believed "a plot is under way" to involve Madalynne in the escape of Clara Phillips from the county jail the evening after Madalynne's release following dismissal of the J. Belton Kennedy murder case in which she was a defendant.

Beirns made the statement following a conference at the sheriff's office between officials and Harold L. Carlton, who turned over to officers a nightgown, powder puff, manicure set and several other articles possessed by Clara Phillips during her jail term.
Carlton, who was a defense witness at Madalynne's trial, told officers Mrs. Obenchain had called him to her home soon time after Clara's escape and given him the articles, asking him to keep them.
He said he did not know that they belonged to Clara until recently, when he met Mrs. Obenchain on the street. When she asked him for the articles and told him they were Clara's, he said he told her he had destroyed them, according to his story to the sheriff's office.

The sheriff's office announced that Mrs. Obenchain would be questioned concerning the articles. Her attorney, while charging "a plot," refused to amplify his statement.

'Poison Pen' Letter Author Suspect Jailed

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Daisy V. Calvin, 32, is lodged in the county jail here on a charge of having written "poison pen" letters to Federal Judges Trippett and Bledsoe. Post office inspectors, who caused the arrest, believe the woman to be mentally deranged and say that she has been before state and federal courts on several occasions.

Immense Sum Spent By French In Ruhr

PARIS, May 11.—By May 31 France will have spent 231,000,000 francs in the Ruhr since the French troops occupied Essen on January 11, according to the figures the French government will ask the chamber to vote as "Ruhr credits" on May 22.
Of this total amount 97,000,000 francs is for net military expenditures, while 133,000,000 is listed as civil expenses. The balance covers mainly the cost of French services which Germany refused to pay since the occupation.

DESPAIR MESSAGE ANGERS FOREIGNERS

Prominent Business Men of China to Offer Selves
As Hostages, Plan

BY RAY G. MARSHALL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TIEN TSIN, May 11.—"For God's sake, take away the troops. They threaten to kill us all!"

This message of despair came this afternoon from J. B. Powell, American newspaper man, captive with other foreigners in the camp of the Shantung bandits who wrecked and looted the Shanghai-Pekin express Sunday morning and carried off its foreign passengers. The cry from the hills, to which the brigands, now close pressed by government troops, have withdrawn, caused consternation here. Grave fears are felt for the safety of the undetermined number of foreigners still held.

The despairing message from Powell sent from the bandit camp today stirred growing anger among foreigners against what are felt to be insufficient measures for protection and release of the captives, now believed to be in deadly peril.
Offer Selves as Hostages.
Before leaving Peking, I learned of plans formulated by Chinese business men to present apologies and offer amends to the foreign legations today.

Twelve prominent business men of China were to go into the hills and offer themselves as hostages for release of the foreign prisoners, according to the plan.
The "sorrow of the Chinese people over the outrage" was to be expressed in person at each legation by a delegation of three, including a president of the United Chamber of Commerce of China. The legations were to be informed that a million dollars was ready for ransom if necessary.

RELEASE OF CAPTIVES BY MIDNIGHT DEMANDED

PEKIN, May 11.—The diplomatic corps delivered an ultimatum to China today, demanding the Chinese government obtain release of all foreign prisoners held by bandits in the Shantung hills by midnight tonight, Peking time.
Otherwise a heavy progressive indemnity will be imposed.
The powers' ultimatum was presented Wednesday, but was kept secret until today.
The diplomatic corps does not specify the action that will be pursued in the event that China does not comply with its terms, but it is understood the powers control sufficient income from private properties to enable them to collect indemnity payments.

The Chinese ministry of communications sent out word that bandits had been released but the foreign diplomats and consuls have no such information.

U. S. ENVOY WARNS CHINESE GOVERNMENT

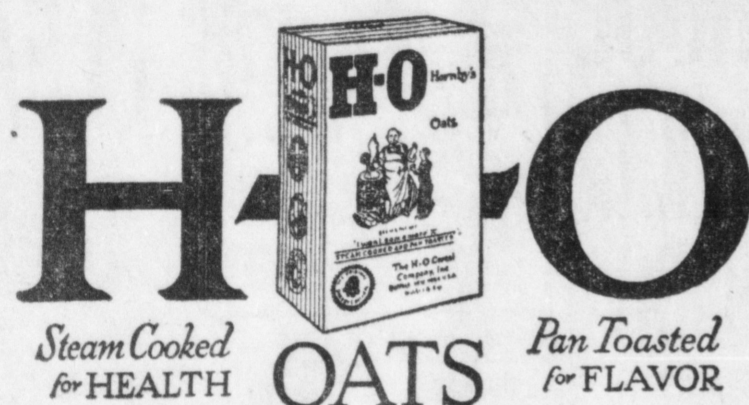

WASHINGTON, May 11.—American Minister Schurman in Shanghai has warned Chinese authorities that the death of a foreigner among the prisoners of the Shantung bandits will mean that China will face serious international complications, the state department announced.
The Peking government and high Chinese authorities all believe release of the Americans and other foreign prisoners may be expected at any time. The department was advised, and Schurman had been told that after a settlement of the present incident, the Chinese government will consider a general campaign for extermination of bandits.

The department announced that it had been advised that F. W. Pratt and Mrs. Pratt of Richmond, Va., were on the train and are now in Shanghai.

Statement Issued.
The following statement was issued today by the state department: "The department has received information from Shanghai to the effect that Minister Schurman on May 10 had a long conference at any time. The department is advised, and Schurman had been told that after a settlement of the present incident, the Chinese government will consider a general campaign for extermination of bandits.
The department announced that it had been advised that F. W. Pratt and Mrs. Pratt of Richmond, Va., were on the train and are now in Shanghai."

REALTORS WILL GO TO RIVERSIDE MEET

Realtors of Santa Ana going to the annual picnic of real estate brokers of Southern California, to be held at Fairmont Park, Riverside, tomorrow, will assemble in front of the courthouse on North Broadway here at 8 a. m., and will depart for Riverside at 8:15 a. m., according to arrangements made at today's meeting of the Santa Ana board of Realtors at St. Ann's Inn.

Groups of realtors from other points will meet at the Mission Inn, Riverside, at 10 a. m. and go from there to the park.

Mrs. Hattie A. Allen, realtor of Buena Park, a guest, rectified success she has had in quickly disposing of a large percentage of lots in a subdivision she opened two weeks ago two miles south of Buena Park. She said a new town, to be known as Harding, is being established.

With the first day of the Valencia Orange show at Anaheim being designated realtors' day, the local board today voted that members close their offices at 12 p. m. on May 22 and attend the fair in a body.

S. L. Deane, president and manager of the Santacala Woolen Mills company, outlined the reorganization of the company and said that in all probability the plant would be in operation in two or three weeks.

Prominent Americans Will Study Indians

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Secretary of the Interior Work today invited 135 prominent Americans to join with him in studying "the problem of the American Indian" and in working out better governmental methods of looking after Indians.

Included among those he asked to form an "advisory committee" are:

General Pershing, Judge Gary, William Allen White, Mary Roberts Rhinehart, Governor Preuss of Minnesota and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

Radio Air Tappers Have Set Smashed

CLEVELAND, May 11.—The radio has brought about the "air tappers," as betting successors to the wire tappers of ancient days, as a means of getting advance horse race results in wagers with bookmakers. Yesterday a radio set was found concealed in a tree behind a barn at the Maple Heights running track here. Track police located the apparatus and tore it from its lodgings. Track officials believe gamblers planned to use the device to flash race results to accomplices downtown before the results could be telephoned to the city.

Soviet Has Success In Fight On Veils

MOSCOW, May 11.—Communist party workers say they now are at last having some effect in their campaign to modernize the Moslem women of the Near East.

It took hundreds of communist "missionaries" nearly two years in some localities to persuade the women to remove their veils and participate in politics. Now, in Adjerbajan alone, however, more than 22,000 native women have been organized in industrial activity, while workshops for feminine Mohammedans, where they are taught that the role of woman is far different from that of the usual Moslem conception, have been established by hundreds in Tukestan, Bokhara and elsewhere.

SERVANTS CHEAP IN OSAKA
OSAKA, Japan, May 11.—The wages of servant girls in Osaka have gone up 1,800 per cent in 30 years. The pay of men servants, printers, carpenters and coolies has gone up, in the same period of time, between $20 and $300 per cent.

Early this morning the last span of the cable of the 220-volt transmission line, which stretches south 240 miles from the Big Creek-San Joaquin project of the Southern California Edison Company, was tied in. A general message was sent out over the private lines of the Southern California Edison Company notifying the District Managers in this territory that the world's greatest achievement in long distance, high voltage transmission had been accomplished.

Credit for the investigations leading to the design of this 220,000-volt transmission system and its subsequent successful operation is due to Mr. H. A. Barra, the company's executive engineer.

Active construction of this new high voltage transmission line was begun in active service at 150,000 volts, a section at a time being taken out for reconstruction. Conversion from 150,000 to 220,000 volts has doubled the capacity of the line. When operating at 220,000 volts this twin set of lines will have a capacity to transmit 300,000 horsepower of electrical energy.

This new world's record in long distance transmission is the result of successive steps in pioneering, as it was the same company which only thirty years ago placed in operation the first three-phase long-distance transmission line operating at 10,000 volts for a distance of about twenty miles.

The conversion of these lines from 150,000 to 220,000 volts has effected a saving of $3,000,000 over what would have been the construction of a duplicate set of 150,000-volt lines. This is merely the initial saving, since the adoption of the 220,000-volt system of transmission when applied to the future lines needed to transmit over a million horsepower under development at Big Creek will effect an ultimate saving of $60,000,000 in transmission expenditures.

Some idea of the enormous carrying power of these new 220,000-volt lines can be comprehended by the following popular comparison:

When these lines come into operation they will carry 300,000 horsepower, which will be equal to one hundred highest power steam locomotives used in transcontinental service, hauling twenty-five thousand loaded cars of freight, which would reach two hundred miles.

Its power is sufficient to propel fifteen thousand standard sized automobiles of twenty horsepower. Placed end to end these cars would make a line thirty miles in length.

It would propel fifteen thousand pumps which would pump the water for irrigating 500,000 acres of land, which would have a potentiality of $47,500,000 production per year.

It would, in terms of oil, be equal to a pipe line carrying 160,000,000 gallons of oil per year.

The power covered by this line per day, computed on manpower, is equal to the combined population of California, Oregon, Washington and Arizona, constituting the entire population of what is generally known as the Pacific West.

Six Are Hurt In

ORANGE, May 11.—One man was in the hospital today and five others, including three children, were recovering from cuts and bruises received when an automobile carrying a party of picnickers bound for the annual picnic of the California Wire company was hit by a machine driven by a woman, said to reside at El Modena.

The injured are John Thomas, 35, employee of the wire company; Mrs. Steve Nieblas, El Modena; her infant child; Mrs. Gus La Franco, El Modena; her two children. Four others were slightly hurt. A. H. Kraft, who was driving, apparently became confused and what he thought was a signal by a woman driver. The woman, it was said, waved at children and did not pay strict attention to the car. Witnesses said she was on the wrong side of the road.

from continuing her tour of China.

The Chinese are not bad and she desires to see more of them, she declared today in telling her full story for the first time.

Clad only in night attire, Miss Aldrich tramped bravely in the hills with her captors following the wrecking of the Shanghai express while and other passengers were asleep early Sunday morning.

Because of her grey hairs, she said, the bandits at the first village they came to gave her something to eat and offered her additional Chinese clothing. At her request, grimy brigands held a wall of blankets about her, making an improvised dressing room, within which she slipped into the rough dress. The brigands who held her boudoir wall were galled, she declared.

Crawls Into Kennel

It rained hard the first night, turning to hail.

Miss Aldrich took refuge in a straw-strewn dog kennel, bare feet sticking out into the storm. She slept the sleep of exhaustion throughout a terrific downpour.

In the morning, abandoning her kennel shelter, she made friends with a chubby Chinese boy, the bandit chieftain's son, whom she learned to like exceedingly.

Her affection for the lad pleased the fiercely whiskered bandits, who beamed upon her and tried to tell her, in sign language, that she need have no fear.

Miss Aldrich, in her turn, tried to convey to the bandits that she had nephews like the little boy.

They understood her to mean boys and long bows followed the pantomime. The sign is understood generally, Miss Aldrich said.

Everybody was most kind to her, it seemed, and when she devoured the "blotting paper" cakes, that were the brigands' food, they applauded her as a good sport.

Minister Schurman stated to Governor Chi that in this case time was the most important element, that delay of one day might cause the death of a foreigner by starvation or shooting, and that international complications might be precipitated by one such death.

The Peking government, Marshal Tsao Kun, the Shanghai military governor and Governor Chi all believe that liberation of the foreigners may be expected at any time."

Dog's Return To Spell Woman's Fate

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Whether or not an operation shall be performed to save the life of Mrs. Charles Aggwin, depends, by an odd quirk of fate, upon the return of a lost Pekinese dog. Doctors recently told Mrs. Aggwin that only surgical treatment would save her life. She is a poor woman, and her only possession of value was the little pet. By selling it she could secure the $125 necessary for an operation.

So she turned the tiny dog over to a store to be sold. It escaped from a cage accidentally opened by a customer and dashed from the store, to be lost in the crowd, and with the pet also vanished Mrs. Aggwin's hopes for health.

was advised today by American Minister Schurman.

The inquiry is to be made by delegates from different departments of the Chinese government and representatives of the foreign governments in China.

Millionaire Officer
Sinner, Says Spouse

AKRON, O., May 8.—Everything went as smooth as gravy with Henry Berdord and he became known as the "millionaire cop."
Then trouble swatted him with a barrel stave and he is now defending a divorce suit, trying to get out of several charges resulting from raids on his "bunny-hugger inn," near the city, and defending himself against the attacks of his wife, who calls him a bootlegger and a sinner of the first water.

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds
And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 11.—
Hopes of Southern California to see re-apportionment of legislative districts become a reality during the present session lie completely shattered today. The senate late yesterday, by a vote of 21 to 14, defeated a compromise measure introduced by Senator Boggs, Stockton, and ended the re-apportionment contest for this year. The measure would have given Los Angeles four more assemblymen and one more senator. The Part, Rominger and Johnson re-apportionment bill still on the senate file, might come to a vote today, but no effort will be made to pass it and the roll call of the bill only perfunctory, it was believed.

The Badarracco bill making it a misdemeanor to wear masks in public except at social functions is a California statute today. The measure, which is declared to be aimed at the Ku Klux Klan, was signed by Governor Richardson late yesterday. It will prohibit street parades and demonstrations by organizations such as the Klan, where regalia is used to conceal the identity of the participants. The bill was sent to Governor Richardson at 5:25 p. m. yesterday from the enrolling and engrossing committee. One minute later he signed it.

Before the senate today is the Rosenshine bill substituting the sponsor plan for the petition system in nominating federal and state officers. The measure, previously defeated in the assembly, was reconsidered and passed by that body late yesterday. Under it, a United States senator would be nominated by 150 sponsors filed with the secretary of state, 100 would nominate a governor and 50 a member of the legislature.

Jack Badarracco, San Francisco wet assemblyman, lost his resolution memorializing congress to permit the sale of light wines and beer, when the proposal was downed in the assembly late yesterday by a vote of 41 to 32. "I plead with you to vote as you drink," Badarracco said. "If you do this I will be satisfied."

The prohibition element in the lower house won another victory during the evening when it defeated one of the Hornblower search and seizure bills, 36 to 22.
The measure would have prevented dry officers entering homes for contraband evidence unless they had search warrants.

wives be present. There will be a program of addresses and music, with refreshments being served at the conclusion of the program.
Among the speakers will be Mrs.
Frances Noel, of Los Angeles, state organizer for the auxiliary.

Prohibition Fails to Halt Barley Growing

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Prohibition did not deal a death blow to barley growing, contrary to the belief, the department of agriculture stated today.

When pre-prohibition beer went under the ban, prohibition beer, the 1/2 of 1 per cent beverage, took its place as a barley consumer. Before prohibition the breweries consumed approximately 30 per cent of the barley crop. This was the highest grade of barley, for which a premium was paid. The market for fancy barley has been maintained by malt and near-beer requirements.

Export demand for fancy barley also has increased due to the elimination of Russia as a barley producer, the department stated.
The other 70 per cent of the American crop goes for milling and stock feed. Barley is almost the equal of corn for stock feeding, the department stated.

AIR FANS HEAR POLY BAND IN BIG CONCERT

The Santa Ana high school band delighted its radio audience last night when it played selections for KFAW, The Register's radiophone.
A program of difficult numbers was offered by the band and each was played with the correctness and assurance of a much older and more experienced organization.
The performance of the high school boys reflected great credit on their instructor and leader, S. J. Mustel, who has occupied the position of superintendent of instrumental music in the Santa Ana schools for the past year.

Play Prison Scene.
One of the outstanding numbers played last night was the prison scene from "Il Trovatore." In this selection, Norman Hicks, cornetist, and Jack Langley, baritone, gave a splendid rendition of the famous "Miserere."

The program consisted of the following selections:
1—March, "Fort Gay."
2—Overture, "Norma."
3—Prison Scene from "Il Trova-tore," Norman Hicks, cornet; Jack Langley, baritone.
4—Grand Medley, "Southern Melodies."
5—"Lustspiel," Overture.
6—"The Star Spangled Banner."

Here is Personnel.
The personnel of the band directed last night by Director Mustel included Clarinets—Emory Faulkner, Frank Rogers, Will Homan, Raymond Morell, John Pascho; cornets—Norman Hicks, Farrell Jones, Harold Chatlan, John Walker, Robert Vawter, Francis Day, Will Smith; French horns—Marvin Morrison, Albert Watinberg, Raymond Bloemer, Joseph Schiff; Trombones—Clair Hanson, John
Dolan; Baritone—Jack Langley, Louis Napier, Venerable Grant; Oboes and Bassoons—Harold Mathews; saxophones—William Godwin, Steward Rittner; bass—Leon Gardner, and drums, James Cou-
During the evening The Register received several complimentary reports on the work of the band boys from various sections of the city. Last night's concert was the first appearance of the high school band in radioland.

IMPROVEMENT FOR ISLAND APPROVED

The immediate development of Balboa island as a residential district was assured today following the election there yesterday at which the voters expressed their approval of the issuance of $145,- 000 in bonds for a sewer system and $13,000 for a water pipe line.

The proposal for a $15,000 bridge and an ornamental street lighting system to cost $23,000, both were defeated by one vote. On the sewer bonds the vote was 29 to 4; on the water pipe line, 26 to 7; on the bridge 16 to 15; and on the lights the same vote.

The voters felt that the city should pay for the construction of the bridge and that ornamental lights were not needed at this time, it was said.

S. C. SCHOOL CHIEFS
HOLD MEETING HERE

City school superintendents of Southern California were holding an informal meeting here today for the discussion of various problems applying to the duties of school system executives, according to an announcement of J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent of Santa Ana.
Luncheon was served to the visiting educators in the domestic science hall of the junior high school.
The business of the meeting followed immediately upon conclusion of the luncheon. The meeting was held in the council room of the board of education.

"Our meetings are strictly informal," Cranston said. "We have no organization, nor any set date for meetings. Occasionally we get together for a talk about our duties in the system of Southern California schools. We believe in the exchange of ideas."

permission to sell property on East

The property consists of a lot

Ex-Employee Pays Conscience Money

SALEM, Ore., May 8.—George
M. Litchfield, veteran balliff of Marion county circuit court, was accosted by an unidentified man here Sunday and presented with a roll of currency aggregating $100.
When Litchfield asked for an explanation the man said he had worked in the balliff's grocery store in Salem more than 40 years ago, and during that time approximately small amounts of money; that his conscience had bothered him for several months and that he recently decided to return the amount of the thefts together with interest at the first opportunity.

Cruiser Scheduled to Complete Record Dash

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The scout cruiser Omaha, attempting to break the speed record from Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to San Francisco, was due here this afternoon.

8 a. m. Tuesday, intending to do three things:
Break the record of 100 hours established by the steamer H. F.
Alexander in 1916.

Deliver a letter to Crissy Field here for relay to the postoffice department at Washington by airplane, to establish a record for pos-tential transmission from Hawaii to the national capital.

Bring Captain Leon Des Pland, U. S. A., to his fiancée, Miss Margaret Carnegie Schuh, of Carle-ville, so that the two can be married here today.

PREPARE LISTS OF PERMANENT TEACHERS

Teachers in Santa Ana schools who have held their positions for less than two years today were concerned as to whether their names will appear on the "permanent" list now being prepared by the teachers' committee, composed of C. F. Smith and Marshall
L. Keeler of the board of education.

Unless the short term teacher's name appears on the list, he or she will be out of a "job." If listed as "permanent" the teacher will be safe against dismissal except through trial for cause, according to the teacher tenure of office act.
Frank L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education, said today.

"Under the teacher tenure of office act," Andrews said, "it becomes the duty of the school board at this time of year to determine the list of teachers it is desired to keep as permanent members of teaching staff."

The act provides that if a teacher is to be discharged without cause or trial, it must be within the first two years of service under that particular school board.

"When two years have expired the teacher becomes 'permanent' and cannot be discharged only on charges brought and proven."

"The committee's report will be made at a future board meeting, though I am informed it will not be ready in time for action at the next meeting, less than two weeks from now."

"I have no information as to names to be listed or dropped."

S. A. MERCHANTS TO
'JOLLIFY' MONDAY

Although the "jollification" and quarterly meeting of the Santa Ana Merchants and Manufacturers' association at the Temple theater next Monday night was planned strictly for attendance of members, other merchants and manufacturers of the city, not members of the association, will be invited as honor guests. P. S.
Lucas, secretary of the association, announced today.

A full program of events has been arranged for the evening, with the first number scheduled for appearance promptly at 7:30 p. m. Three members of the cast of "The Mikado," which will be presented here by the Orange County Choral union under the direction of Ellis Rhodes, May 24, will be featured of the entertainment, Lucas said.

Two Orpheum vaudeville turns and several musical numbers also are promised.
Business of the meeting will consist of a discussion of various timely topics, a short talk by a Los Angeles business man of authority, and reading of the secretary's report, Lucas said.

OPENING SEAT SALE
FOR 'MIKADO' LARGE

The opening yesterday of the seat sale for "The Mikado," which is to be presented at the high school auditorium on the evenings of May 23 and 24 showed a lively interest in the performances.

Several hundred tickets already have been sold, it was stated at the Santa Ana Book store, where the sale is being conducted.

This morning a call for 100 tickets for sale at Anaheim was received.
"The Mikado" is to be presented by the Orange County Choral union. Nearly all of the members of the cast are the same as the members of the cast that presented the opera with great success about a year and a half ago.

Permission was granted today
by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, to Juanita C. Yorba, guardian of five minor members of the Yorba family, to lease four tracts contained in the Yorba estate, for oil drilling purposes.
The tracts are situated in the Richfield-Yorba district, the petition set forth.

The minors are Alonzo E., Kenneth D., Margaret L., George G. and Albert L. Yorba.
One of the terms of the 20-year court order, was that drilling must be begun within six months, and that the owners of the land re-

LEAGUE OPENS UP FIGHT ON DOPE TRADE

GENEVA, May 9.—The discovery of the existence of an organized, international traffic in cocaine, opium and morphine, extending entirely around the world and having at its disposition a "dope fleet" of trawlers for running customs blockades and smuggling harmful drugs into various countries is one of the first results of the League of Nations' campaign for the suppression of the illegal drug traffic.

The control and suppression of the traffic in opium and harmful drugs was one of the specific duties assigned to the League of Nations by the treaty of Versailles. It is one of only three league activities in which the United States has consented to participate, the other two being international health and the suppression of the white slave traffic.

Work in Concert
The first definite results of the League's campaign, as indicated above, have been made possible by the signing of an international agreement under the terms of which all the signatory nations agreed to notify the league immediately of all violations of existing laws against traffic in drugs and illegal shipments.

The first notifications under this agreement have just reached the league and by piecing together the information that has come from various countries, league officials have had no difficulty whatever in reconstructing the international "dope ring" organization as it exists today. Each country is immediately notified of all such information which concerns it, and it is then in a position to take the necessary steps for breaking up the traffic as concerns its own limits and jurisdiction.

By far the most important notifications sent in to the league to date have been from Canada. They have revealed two very important things.

First that a goodly portion of the dope now being used in illegal, international traffic comes from the great chemical industries of Germany, and secondly that the latter have established regular channels for getting this out of Germany and sold all around the world.

"Powdered Cocoa"
One of the regular routes which the Canadian authorities discovered was from Germany to Spain; then from Spain to France, and from France by means of a "dope fleet" of trawlers to St. Pierre Miquelon, off New Foundland from whence the dope was eventually smuggled into Canada and presumably the United States.

The Canadian government also established the existence of another route by way of Basle, Switzerland, the drugs being gotten over the Swiss frontier to Basle from whence they were shipped to fictitious addresses in Canada as cocoa. One of the shipments thus seized contained enough dope to have permitted every resident of Canada to indulge in one prolonged pipe dream.

The entire lot of "powdered cocoa" consisted of 442 pounds of morphine cubes; 117 pounds of heroin and 65 pounds of cocaine. That the "dope ring" for handling this traffic extends entirely around the world is further revealed in notifications just given by the English government, which has just discovered that the port of Amoy, China, is being used as a distributing center for the entire orient. The British authorities there have succeeded in seizing large shipments of morphine sent in registered packages not only through the Chinese posts but through the English and French posts as well. A minute examination of the paper wrappings of these packages showed that some of them had been sent out by a firm in Denmark.

Patras, Greece, has also been discovered to be another center of distribution. The drugs are apparently smuggled down there from the big chemical houses of central Europe and then through the organization of the thousands of small boats with which the port abounds. The dope is gotten aboard trans-oceanic steamers for international commerce and smuggling.

At the request of the League, Greece has promised to subject all foreign baggage to rigid inspection and to exercise close control over all harbor boatmen who are in a position to communicate with the crews of foreign steamers in the harbor.

Local Salesman Jailed In Embezzlement Case

Dewitt Matthews, 35, a salesman, was held in the county jail here today, awaiting the arrival of a deputy sheriff from Tulare county, who were expected to take him back there to face embezzlement charges.

Matthews was arrested here on a telegraphic warrant from the northern county. He was employed as an automobile truck salesman here.

LODI UNDECIDED
LODI, Calif., May 9.—Incorporated 17 years ago as a sixth class city with a population of around 2500, Lodi has struggled along with the old constitution and by-laws long enough, sentiment here seems to show, and a change to a city of fifth class is anticipated. There is said to be a hopeless variety of unenforceable ordinances and a large number needed, and it is felt a complete change in city rating and constitution would be the easiest way of settling the problem faced.

SOCIETY

Music Section

With the annual election of officers at hand, a large attendance of members is desired at Monday afternoon's meeting of the Ebell Music section to be held at the home of Miss Preble Drake, 1717 North Broadway.

To hasten matters of business, it was announced that the program arranged under direction of Mrs. E. G. Warner, was to start promptly at 2-30 P. M. Mrs. Warner has planned that the Girls' Glee club of Santa Ana high school will appear with three members opening the program with a trio, "April" by Nevin.

Elwood Bear will follow with a selected violin number and an octette from the Glee club will sing "May Time" by Denda. Miss Leonore Tompkins will then offer an original composition, "Im promptu in A Major," after which the entire Glee club will sing "June Rhapody."

Two piano groups will be professed by Mrs. Violet Nedderson, talented young pianiste of New York City who is here as the guest of Miss Tompkins. The first group will comprise McDowell's "Polonaise," "May Night" by Talmgren and "Island Spell" by Ireland, while the second group will be strictly modern, with "Hurdy Gurdy," "The Ghost Story" and "Punch and Judy Show" all by Gossens.

Election will follow the program.

Relief Corps

Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, installing officer of the Department of California, B. C. yesterday spent the day in Anaheim where a flourishing Relief Corps, whose charter was signed by twenty members, was instituted by her with the aid of Mrs. Emma J. Scheer, department president and officers of the Santa Ana corps.

Members of patriotic organizations of the city who knew and loved Comrade A. B. Paul will be glad to know that the new organization will be known as the A. B. Paul Corps No. 131, thus honoring one who was long a resident of Santa Ana and who was quarter-master at the yearly encampment at Huntington Beach.

A successful meeting of W. R. C. Federation No. 1 held recently at Whittier was recalled yesterday when Mrs. Ludwig and other guests told of the pleasant day with the big noon-day dinner when 225 persons were seated at the table.

The afternoon program offered Judge E. T. Langley as speaker with "Americanization" as his theme and a round table conducted by fifteen women. Also a chorus of fifty ladies' voices was drilled in preparation for the federation entertainment to be presented in Santa Monica June 20. The next federation meeting will be held July 9 at Huntington Beach.

YOUNG PUPILS ECLIPSE OLD TESTS SHOW

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—The tired business man and "oldest resident," who hark back to the time when they were boys and compare the schooling they received with the schooling of the present day youth, with the odds in favor of the little red school house, are mythologists and pals of the famous Baron Munchausen. So says Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction. Wood said: "The old-timers simply cannot make good on their claims of superiority in schooling. Recently I gave notice of a public contest wherein old-timers were to be pitted against high school pupils in reading, writing and spelling."

Old Papers Found.
"It seems that examination papers prepared for the pupils of the Springfield and Boston, Massachusetts, schools in 1845, were recently discovered in an old attic in Springfield. The tests included punctuation, spelling, history, geography, grammar and arithmetic."

"Professors Mead and Kyte of the University of California conceived the idea of giving the Springfield tests to the pupils of the eighth grade of the Berkeley schools. Of course, it was some what unfair to the Berkeley pupils inasmuch as the Berkeley courses of study differ greatly from the Springfield course of 1845. More-over the Springfield pupils were considerably older than the Berkeley boys and girls. In spite of this handicap the contest was arranged."

Old-Timers in Rear.
"The results of the test are now made public. They leave the claims of the old-timers badly crippled. The Berkeley pupils taught by modern methods and following a course of study which placed place for music, drawing, physical education and manual training, beat their grandfathers and grandmothers all hollow. They stood 13 per cent higher than the old-timers in history; 22 per cent higher than the old-timers in geography; 31 per cent higher in arithmetic; 71 per cent higher in punctuation; 154 per cent higher in the use of English and 850 per cent higher in their ability to spell words they actually used."

"The test merely bears out my contention that the schools today are doing far better work than the old-time school. It is natural for adults to regard the good old days as yielding better results than the present. Just as the old homestead, which loomed large in our childhood vision shrinks mightily in our estimation when we visit it now, so the vaunted perfection of our ancient schooling shrinks in an actual contest."

Fraternal Brotherhood Install Nine Members

Nine new members of Santa Ana Lodge No. 20, Fraternal Brotherhood, were installed at a well attended meeting held here last night. Ten more will be installed at the next regular meeting. New members accepted were:

Mrs. Edith Beltner, J. C. Seasmans, L. L. Ackers, James B. Hayes, A. Huffman, H. Rinnell, Robert Ballard, Minnie Ballard and William Ashman.

The sixty-four members present showed keen interest in the membership drive, now in progress, and scheduled to close May 31. At that time the Long Beach drill team will put on the floor work.

It was announced by District Manager Francis Bartle that the Fraternal Brotherhood will have a booth and rest room at the Valencia orange show to be held in Anaheim, May 22 to 30.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by the Yellow team.

Basement Sales Rooms Added By S. A. Grocer

F. C. Blauer, grocer, has added a basement sales and display room to his establishment in the Spurgeon building for the purpose of taking care of several new lines of goods which he will carry in the future. China, glassware, alumininum and enamel ware, pyrex and a general line of household notions will be handled in the new basement. A novel idea for introducing his new departments is announced by Blauer in the advertising columns of today's Register.

Jail I. W. W. Suspect On Vagrancy Charges

Suspected of being an I. W. W. sympathizer, and admittedly an atheist, J. P. Pettigill was today serving 30 days in the county jail for vagrancy following his arrest and trial at Newport Beach.

Pettigill has considerable literature regarding his economic and religious beliefs on his person when he was arrested, and attempted to argue his opinions with City Marshal J. A. Porter, Porter said.

CLEAR ARGONAUT MINE
JACKSON, May 9.—Work of unwatering the Argonaut mine is progressing rapidly and at the present rate should be accomplished by the end of this month. The mystery surrounding the disappearance of William Fessel may be solved with the opening of all parts of the mine to exploration. Fessel wandered away from his 47 companions who perished in the mine in the disaster of August, 1922.

Wedded In Riverside Will Make Home In Orange

Riverside was chosen by two Orange young people, Miss Olive Hibbs and Oscar Webster, as the scene of their marriage when, on last Saturday, May 5, they took their wedding vows in the presence of Judge Hibbard in that city.
The wedding was a quiet one witnessed only by Mr. Webster's sister, Mrs. Noah Strong of Banning and Miss Idella Christenson, a friend of the bride. It was followed by a brief trip and the happy couple are now at their home on North Glassell street, Orange, where they will welcome their friends after May 15.

As Miss Hibbs, the bride was a valued employee of the California Wire company while the groom is connected with the Orange County Rock and Gravel company.
Both are popular with a wide circle of friends and have been honored by different pleasant affairs in honor of their engagement and marriage. One of the most interesting of these was a miscellaneous shower arranged by members of the bride's class at Sunday school, the "Smilers" of which Mrs. F. M.
Gulick is teacher.
The affair was given in the class room at the Orange Methodist church, which had been rendered charmingly homelike by quantities of flowers. Gifts both beautiful and useful were heaped on the happy pair and following an evening of merriment, appetizing refreshments were served the assembled guests who included Miss Hibbs, Mr. Webster, Mr. and Mrs.
Gulick, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Curry,
Mr. and Mrs. Norman La Tourette,
Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Camp, Mr.
and Mrs. Sam Collins, Mr. and Mrs.
Elton Lord, Mrs. Floyd Carrier,
Miss Thelma Haag, Miss Idella
Christenson and Mr. Carl Warner.

Aid Society

One of the pleasant events in the annals of the north-west section of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society was the meeting yesterday afternoon at the attractive home of Mrs. Henry Walters of 1001 North Parton street.
A few business matters were quickly disposed of and then the guests, each provided with special sewing, sought the cool and shady gardens of the home where the enjoyable afternoon was spent and where Mrs. Roberts, San Francisco, mother of the Rev. William E.
Roberts was accorded honors as special guest. Mrs. Walters presented Mrs. Roberts with a basket filled with fragrant sweet peas.
Refreshments, served amid the flowers of the garden, seemed especially enjoyable and in all respects the afternoon was a happy one enjoyed by over twenty-five members of the section.

Missionary Society

Members of the Missionary society of Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church enjoyed an all-day meeting Wednesday in the church parlors. At 10 a. m. Mrs. H. Donan conducted a helpful Bible study, upon the subject, "All Scripture is by Inspiration."
Mrs. Moffit Rhodes ably gave the mission study lesson from the book, "Building with India," which was inspiring and full of interest. At 12:30 o'clock dinner was served in the dining room of the church. All enjoyed this hour especially those who have birthdays in the month of May as they were the guests of honor. At 2 p. m. the president, Mrs. Oglesby, opened the business session. Mrs. C. W. McNaught gave the news from the Missionary Bulletin, after which there was a literary program upon the subject, "Korea." Those who had part in the program were Mrs.
Donan, Mrs. Frambes and Miss Hester Covington.

Afternoon Tea Gives Pleasure

Over thirty mothers of the young dancers appearing in the recent dance revue at the Temple theater, were guests yesterday afternoon at a pleasant little tea given by Mrs. Maude Putnam at the Mabel Rockwell School of Dancing.
Mrs. Putnam's pupils were received with delight at the pretty revue, recollections of which were told with pleasure by yesterday's guests. The afternoon was purely informal and dainty refreshments added to the pleasure.

Household Economics

The May meeting of Ebells' second section Household Economics was an attractively planned and carried out luncheon held at the home of Mrs. A. P. Nelson, 514
South Broadway with Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Roy Hall and Mrs. Ward Sur-ton as hostesses.
The appetizing menu was served on individual trays, each bearing a dainty French bouquet, and was followed by the principal event of the program, a talk on "Wild Flowers" by J. Russel Bruff, head of the biological science department at Santa Ana junior college and high school.

Election of officers also occupied the attention of members and resulted in the appointment of Mrs.
Nelson as leader, Mrs. Bruce Monroe as assistant leader and Mrs.
Sutton as secretary. The annual June picnic was broached and Mrs.
Nat H. Ney and Mrs. R. G. Tuthill were appointed as a committee to decide upon the picnic site.

Miss Eva Siemonsma Becomes Bride of Mr. Jack Cardall

Enjoying a motor honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Cardall following the pretty wedding which was a feature of yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church.
Mrs. Cardall was formerly Miss Eva Siemonsma, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. H. R. Siemonsma, 1025 West Fifth street, and with her parents has made her home in this city for over three years, coming here from Rock Valley, Iowa. It was regretted that press of business held Mr. Siemonsma in Rock Valley so that he was unable to be present at his daughter's marriage.

The impressive service was read by the Rev. Father Henry Eummelen at 10 o'clock. Miss Siemonsma wore a lovely gown of oyster white Canton crepe with harmonizing hat and other accessories and carried a cluster of pink and white rose buds tied with tulle.
Attending her as bridesmaid was Miss Lula McDonald, also in oyster white Roshanara crepe, carrying pink and lavender sweet peas. Mr. Clarence Siemonsma, brother of the bride, served Mr.
Cardall as best man.

Following the nuptials, a wedding breakfast was served to members of the immediate family and a few close friends who, gathered at the home of the bride where quantities of roses were used in a pink and white color scheme. A large bride's cake was the attractive center-piece of the table and the bride cut the slices with a pretty ceremony.

Departing for the honeymoon,
Mrs. Cardall traveled in a smart little sport suit in sand color. Upon their return, the happy couple will make their home in Riverside where Mr. Cardall is connected with the National Cash Register company, having been transferred from a similar position which he held in Santa Ana.

Dorcas Society

Mrs. B. C. Gridley of North Garney street was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of the Dorcas society of the First Methodist church when twenty mothers with thirteen babies were present to enjoy the pleasant affair.

Among matters discussed was the preparation of articles for both fancy-work and baby booth of the annual Christmas bazaar of the church since the handwork will be done during the summer vacation season.
The society is proving immensely popular with the young mothers of the M. E. congregation since small children are made especially welcome by each hostess in turn and ample provision is made for their welfare and pleasure.

Yesterday's meeting was brought to a close by the serving of dairy refreshments when Mrs. Grid-ley was assisted by Mrs. Al Hardin.

Miss Lois Schlessinger Is "Victim" of Wedding Shower

Announcement of the approaching wedding of Miss Lois Schlesinger, who is to wed Mr. Glenn Vickroy, Wednesday, May 16, at a pretty home ceremony, was followed by a delightfully planned shower held recently at the L. A.
Schlessinger home, 417 South Birch street, as a surprise to the young bride-to-be.
Miss Schlessinger and her mother, Mrs. L. A. Schlessinger, had spent the day in Los Angeles.
Their return about 8 o'clock, was to a home rendered colorful with bright flowers and gay with the assembled friends of the bride.
Miss Eva Culver had planned the affair which resulted in quantities of lovely gifts showered on Miss Schlessinger.
Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the merry evening.
The wedding of the young couple will be an afternoon affair with the Rev. W. L. H. Benton officiating and will be followed by a motor honeymoon spent in San Francisco.

Picnic Plans Near Completion

With tomorrow bringing the annual Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., picnic at Orange county park, members of the chapter were today anticipating the pleasure of being entertained by the officers who are assuming all responsibility for the day's success as their official entertainment feature of the summer.
Mrs. A. N. Zerman as chairman of the general committee on arrangements, has arranged for a truck to start from the Masonic temple at 9 a. m. for the purpose of carrying up the day's supplies and those who have picnic baskets or donations of any kind to go are requested to have them at the building before that hour.

J. G. Sutherland as chairman of the transportation committee would like to have those who have room in their car for others, as well as those who desire transportation, telephone him by calling 405R. All visiting Stars are extended a cor-

GIRLS' HURTS TOLD IN BIG DAMAGE CASE

Medical testimony, regarding the asserted serious injuries sustained by two of the plaintiffs, featured this morning's session of the trial in the $75,000 damage suit of Mrs. Myrtle Lloyd and her two daughters, against C. R. Siglin, King Mitchell and the Boulevard Express company, in department 1 of the superior court.

As was the case yesterday afternoon, experts, including physicians, were called to the stand to describe the extent of the injuries.

According to their testimony, Miss Marguerite Lloyd, the most seriously hurt of the trio, will be maimed for life as a result of the accident. Miss Marguerite, a pretty girl, was present in court, being compelled to walk with the aid of crutches.

Miss Helen Lloyd, the plaintiffs attempted to show, has suffered a curvature of the spine, and acute nervous disorders as a result of the affair.

The plaintiffs have contended that Mitchell, driving the Boulevard Express truck, and Siglin, in his private car, collided near Tustin on the state highway.

Truck Hits Machine.

Mitchell, witnesses said, left his truck to go back "and beat up Siglin," and the truck, continuing without a driver, crashed into the Lloyd machine.

It was expected that the case would occupy several days more, before arguments will be heard, and testimony is submitted to the jury for consideration.

Attorney H. J. Forgy was sitting as judge pro tem.

Man Agrees to Provide As Sentence Suspended

Pleading guilty to charges of neglect to provide for his family, Thomas Young was today given a sentence in the state penitentiary, which sentence was suspended by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams.

Young agreed to provide for his family, and as long as that is done, the sentence will be suspended.

MARCY HEIGHTS OWNER VISITS HOLDINGS

George Marcy, of Chicago, who is in Southern California on a hurried business trip, is expected here tomorrow to look over his 1400 acre ranch in the Lemon Heights districts. He is accompanied by Mrs. Marcy. They are stopping at the Maryland hotel, Pasadena, and will not be in the Southernland more than a week or ten days, according to George B. Shattuck, secretary of the Golden West Citrus association at Tustin, and a close friend of the Chicagoan.

Approximately 400 acres of the ranch are planted to citrus trees, the most of which are now bearing. It is said that the producing part of the ranch now is bringing returns sufficient to meet the operating costs of the big property.

Marcy has been conducting an improvement program on his holdings for a number of years and is said to have spent a vast sum of money in development before any returns were made from the property.

Road work is continuing along lines adopted long ago by Marcy in his scheme to make his property one of the scenic spots of Southern California. There are now more than six miles of road on his ranch, most of the mileage being over foothills.

Marcy plans the construction of a residence within a year or two on one of the many beautiful building sites on the ranch, it is understood.

Bathing Girls Blamed For Automobile Crash

VENICE, Calif., May 11.—A bevy of beautiful bathing girls passed by, and two heavy automobiles immediately collided.

As a result, J. Saffro is suing Charles Gilbert of Sawtelle, who, he says, had his eyes glued on the one-piece suits of the girls instead of on the road, and as a result demolished Saffro's machine.

RESUME TRIAL OF WILL CASE ON MONDAY

Testimony in the $250,000 will contest suit, involving the estate of the late General Julian O. Royer, which has been on trial in department 2 of the superior court for the past two weeks, will probably not be concluded before next Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, in the opinion of court attaches.

Meanwhile, because of the fact that today was occupied with probate and law and motion matters in Judge Williams' court, a recess until next Monday was taken in the Royer case.

Considerable interest was manifested in the testimony yesterday afternoon of Miss Marie Feraud, contestee, and chief beneficiary in the will.

Denies Bribe Charge.
Miss Feraud denied the insinuations that she had been more than ordinarily familiar with the general, claiming that her position in the household had always been that of a daughter.

She denied also, that she, or Attorney Frank M. Wilcox, in her presence, had ever offered Thomas McGrath, a nurse, a bribe of $5,000 to testify for her. McGrath, in the early days of the trial, had cast a bombshell into affairs by claiming that on one occasion, when he visited Miss Feraud's home by appointment, Wilcox had offered him the money.

Saw Will Signed.

She admitted, upon examination by her attorney, Mattison Jones, that she was present when Royer signed the will in contest, but agreed with previous testimony, in saying that she had had nothing to do with its signature or its construction. She was the first to leave the room after the will was drawn, she said.

Attorney Wilcox flatly denied offering McGrath the bribe concerning which he had testified. He admitted that he had had a conference with McGrath at that time, but said he made no offer, and had no money with him to offer.

LEGION HOSPITAL OPEN.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 10.—A hospital for tubercular veterans of the World War has been opened at West Allis, Wis. The institution cost $1,300,000 and provides for 662 veterans. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary in Wisconsin are fitting sun parlors with pictures, bird cages, easy chairs and flowers.

Alleged Drunk Driver Held to Answer Here

G. G. Gentry was free today on bail, pending superior court proceedings against him, following a preliminary hearing before Justice J. B. Cox yesterday, when he was held to answer on charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Gentry was arrested by city officers several weeks ago. In the hearing yesterday, Deputy District Attorney O. A. Jacobs conducted the people's case. Gentry was not represented by counsel.

S. C. DENTISTS TO GOLF AT CLUB HERE

Members of the Southern California Dental association who are "long" on golf, today were looking forward to tomorrow afternoon, when they will gather on the course of the Orange County Country club for a sweepstakes tournament. The tournament will begin at 2 o'clock.

According to Dr. M. A. Patton, of this city, who is in charge of arrangements for the affair, at least forty dentists will be at the grounds in the afternoon, a large number of whom will be Orange county men. In the evening the visitors will be present at a regular meeting of the Orange County Dental association to be held at St. Ann's Inn, with dinner preceding the business session.

Charles Twist, president of the Orange County Country club, today urged that Santa Ana members of the club who wanted to play tomorrow do so early in the day, so as to make the course available to the visitors.

LOCAL TEACHER TO TALK AT CONCLAVE

L. L. Beeman, head of the social science department of the Santa Ana junior college and high school, will be one of the chief speakers at the California Principals' convention to be held next week in Yosemite. During the past year, Beeman, president of the Association of Teachers of Social Sciences of Southern California has been engaged, with committees, in an extensive survey of the social science work over the entire United States.

Their investigations have resulted in the outlining of an entirely new and extremely valuable course of study for the state of California. Superintendent of Public Instruction William C. Wood, Commissioner of Education Olney, and Professor Rugh, of the university have approved the course and have urged its adoption.

Beeman came to Santa Ana three years ago, from San Bernardino, where he had been principal of the high school, to take the headship of the department of social sciences in the local high school. For many years Mr. Beeman has been investigating and doing graduate study for the universities of Wisconsin and California. He was selected by the University of Indiana, his alma mater, as the most brilliant student in the department of social sciences.

WAX FIGURES STIR UP NEW AGITATION

NEW YORK, May 10.—It may never have occurred to you that the wax dummy in the latest bathing suit, or brassiere that stares at you with goggle eyes from the countess's window may be a dangerous vamp. You probably never considered the possibility that the said dummy, with its perfect 36, had the makings of a naughty homebreaker.

It has no doubt escaped your notice that the motionless mannikin, especially when decked out in foamy lingerie for the admiration of passing pedestrians, is capable of being construed as the answer to the riddle of "Why Men Leave Home."

Deceived by the sphinxlike simper on that pink and white face, you probably never suspected the uncommunicative lay figure of a talent for throwing a glamour over the masculine sex and luring its members away from the habit of keeping the home fires burning.

But in Paris the women have discovered the demoralizing influence of the lingerie clad dummy. And in South America, too. There, it seems, a formidable agitation has sprung up against the dummy vamp. The agitation is led by the League of Decent Women of Buenos Aires. Declaring that the wax figures in shop windows are "often indecent and always seductive," the league is conducting a lively campaign to abolish or reform those eternally smiling sirens.

The decent women of Buenos Aires point out that the men always stop to look at the lingerie dummies, and this they put forward as proof that they—the dummies—are no better than they ought to be. The inference seems to be that only naughtiness is attractive to the eyes of the male person of Buenos Aires.

County Grape Growers To See Demonstration

Grape growers from all sections of Orange county today were invited by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, to attend a dusting and pruning demonstration to be held Wednesday, May 16, at 10 a. m. at the place of Samuel Teel, in the Garden Grove district. Teel resides on the Newhope road, one-half mile north of Fifth street. Demonstrations will be in charge of Frederick Violett, said to be one of the best-posted grape experts in the United States.

SAYS ODIC RAY CAN OVERCOME GRAVITY.

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Gravity can be overcome by the newly discovered Odic ray, Edgar L. Hollingshead, who maintains private laboratories at Pasadena, declared in an interview today.

The Odic ray proves that electricity is an element, or substance, just as wood, with a definite atomic speed, he maintained, saying he based his conclusions on 20 years of study.

By use of the Odic ray any metal can be made to have a lighter weight than any known gas without in any way changing its strength.

By the use of its radiation a photograph can be taken through 1 1/2 inches of solid lead and 5 1/2 inches of solid steel with five seconds exposure.

"The new ray," he told the United Press today, "is based on the theory that electricity is an element or substance, with a definite atomic speed. Electricity is made up of two currents, voltage and amperage. The Odic ray is made by breaking up the force of amperage."

"To every force there must be a counterpart, and the counteracting force to the flow of gravitation is the force of the anatomic speed of matter."

"My experiments have shown that the Odic ray acts to increase the speed of the whirling atoms of substances without changing the substance. When this anatomic speed is great enough it overcomes gravity entirely, and when the handling of the ray is perfected solid matters can be made to float off into space like a feather."

"The principle is the same as a cyclone. When a cyclone sets up resistance to gravitation, solid matter floats around in the air, and literally has no weight because the force of gravitation which held it to the ground has been overcome."

Threaten 300 I. W. W. Members With Arrest

SAN PEDRO, Calif., May 11.—More than 300 I. W. W.'s here who are said to have been active in spreading radical doctrines among the striking longshoremen were threatened with arrest by an order issued today by Chief Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes.

Keyes announced that he intends to use every means possible to stamp out alleged radical activity at the harbor.

PART Y PLAYS IN COMMUNITY LIFE TOLD

The erection of the splendid new home of the Y. M. C. A., in Santa Ana will be a great achievement, but the use of the people of this city make of the building will be the real test of the community, according to J. Gustav White, educational director of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., who was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the local "Y" here last night. Professor W. M. Clayton of Santa Ana high school presided.

"The Y. M. C. A.," said White, "is one of the most potent factors in community life."

Lauds Organization

"It makes for usefulness, cleanliness, and all-around worth while service. Show me the city with a progressive Y. M. C. A. and I will show you a city that takes the lead in every other worthy cause."

White, in discussing the "Fundamental Principles of the Y. M. C. A.," gave an interesting exposition of the movement and called upon his hearers to answer the question, "What do we expect of the Y. M. C. A.?"

The replies, given in writing, indicated that great things are expected of the local institution. White used the answers to advance his argument that the Y. M. C. A. is just what the workers make it, nothing more and nothing less.

Compliments S. A.

"I wish to compliment you upon your progressiveness in planning a beautiful Y. M. C. A. home, soon to be completed here," said White, "but the use you make of the Y. M. C. A. will be the real test of the community. Properly understood and used, the Y. M. C. A. is one of the most substantial assets any community can have."

The forty men present enjoyed an appetizing dinner prepared by the women of the First Baptist church.

ACTRESS SCORNS AGE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—"Age is a state of mind for the most part. I shall never grow old." Such is the sentiment of Mrs. Leslie Carter, famous actress, called the Bernhardt of the American stage. She is soon to appear in a number of plays in Oakland.

"Time flies, but why worry about getting old. Think, act, play the part of youth and be young always. I shall be."

English Children Given Brain Tests

LONDON, May 9.—Strange tests that some critics say might puzzle much older children are being used at various London County Council schools to find out the mental development of juvenile pupils.

At eight the child is supposed to give an intelligent answer to such a question as:

"What are you to do if you break something that belongs to somebody else?"

Satisfactory answers included: "Pay for it." "Own up." "Buy another." "Say I was sorry."

Unsatisfactory answers included such as: "I should cry." "Hide it." "Blame it." The last answer was considered useful as giving some indication as to the pupil's moral disposition.

The solving of circumstantial problems is one of the tasks allotted to indicate normal development of children of 13. One of the riddles was: "My next door neighbor has had three visitors: first, a doctor called, then a lawyer, and then a clergyman. What do you think has been happening there?"

One youngster thought that "the lawyer was employed to get the man to marry the girl," while other replies not adjudged as satisfactory attributed the circumstances variously to "A murder," "A marriage," and "A baby was born."

TWELVE GREATEST WOMEN ARE PICKED

WASHINGTON, May 9. — After deliberating for just a year, the National League of Women Voters today announced what it believes to be the "12 greatest living American women."

The list, alphabetically, follows: Jane Addams, philanthropy. Cecelia Beaux, painting. Anna Jump Cannon, astronomy. Carrie Chapman Catt, politics. Anna Botsford Comstock, natural history. Minnie Maddern Fiske, stage. Louise Homer, music. Julia Lathrop, child welfare. Florence Renasabin, anatomy. M. Carey Thomas, education. Martha Vanrensselaer, home economics.

Edith Wharton, literature.

The list was requested by Senora Manuano, Chilean delegate to the Pan-American conference of women in Baltimore last May. A special committee was appointed to make the selections, although with the greatest of difficulty. Scores refused to serve.

ANCIENT BONES OF CHIEF ARE UNEARTHED

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., May 9.—Nevada's interest in the family life of King Tut, of the Valley of the Kings, shifted to the sand dunes of Winnemucca when workmen recently plowed up the skeleton of a great Indian chief of Nevada antiquity, buried with the relics of his ancient tribe.

Within the ancient burial ground opened when a huge sand dune was being leveled, were stone tablets bearing strange hieroglyphics, rude implements of warfare, unfamiliar cooking utensils, many beautiful seashells such as would have been worn only by a chieftain of rank, and a greater array of flint spear and arrow heads than has even been found since white men settled here.

Archaeological interest centers in the strange stone tablets, for time's devastating hand has effaced many which might have been preserved to a curious posterity had the ancient Nevada tribes used the same care of the dead as is found in the preservation of the Egyptian Pharaohs.

Ethnologists who have studied the picture writings on the rock walls of Nevada mountains, placed centuries ago by unknown races, have discovered a striking similarity with certain rock writings of Asia.

The scholar, Van Humboldt, after long studies in Nevada and the west, said, "It appears most evident to me that the monuments, methods of computing time, systems of cosmogony, and the many myths of America, offer striking analogies with the ideas of western Asia—ideas which indicate an ancient communication and are not simply the result of that uniform condition in which all nations are found in that gray dawn of civilization."

Discoveries made in this region may or may not have given affirmation to the Humboldtian hypothesis, yet the lure of the unknown is in the blood of the ranchmen who uncovered the bones of the chieftain, and further excavations of the dunes are to be started immediately.

Professor J. C. Jones, archaeologist, and Professor E. F. Schapelle, ethnologist, both of the University of Nevada, intend to investigate the discovery.

INDICTED AS FLOGGERS

HOUSTON, Tex., May 9.—Twenty six indictments in connection with a campaign of floggings by masked mobs in Goose Creek were handed down by the Harris county grand jury here today. Identity of twenty persons, said to have been victims of the mob whippings, were not given out by the grand jury. Names of those indicted were also withheld.

Bonds for the indicted men were fixed at from $1000 to $2500. Twenty-one of the indictments charge assault and five perjury.

WILL MARK GRAVES OF 'UNKNOWN DEAD'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 10.—Success of the American Legion Graves Endowment Fund, providing flowers in perpetuity for the resting places of American World War dead, means that 1813 unknown graves of heroes will annually be decorated. In eight U. S. cemeteries in Europe, now shrines of patriotism for Americans, rest the bodies of nearly a regiment of "unknown dead." The inclusion of the unmarked crypts among the 32,000 other American graves in Europe, will reconsecrate their graves with the others still remaining in foreign soil.

Practically every post of the Legion in the nation has joined in the campaign to raise this endowment fund, that the memories of those who made the supreme sacrifice shall be recalled. Post members have set out determined not only to raise the quota set for them for this fund, but to exceed this whenever possible. Mass meetings, personal solicitations and broad publicity campaigns have been utilized by legionnaires to secure the necessary funds for the endowment.

Increases in receipts have been steadily noted, and many department organizations of the Legion are already over the quota set. Mexico has reported 68 per cent more than allocated, and France has raised 160,000 francs for the fund. Contributions from nationally known men and women are received almost daily.

President Harding sent a check for $50 and highly commended the purposes of the endowment. The letter accompanying the check executive's contribution said:

"The American Legion Graves Endowment fund has my heartiest support. It is a national duty to assist the Legion in raising this endowment. The World War vet-erns whose bodies still lie overseas died with the hope that their gift to freedom would suffice to save their brothers and children in making like sacrifices. They died in hope that the sacrifice might be contribution toward putting an end to war.

"We owe them not only this tribute of perpetuating their memory, but our unswerving loyalty to their ideal that the war in which they fought might mark the end of all wars. Please accept the enclosed contribution on the behalf of one who cannot too greatly emphasize his obligation to the memory of our dead overseas, or his determination that they shall not have died in vain."

ANNOUNCE CARD FOR NEXT DELHI BOXING

Ritter, Mexico Main Event
Bolstered By 5 Strong Preliminary Bouts

DELHI CARD.

Main Event—Sailor Ritter, vs. Kid Mexico, 158 pounds.
Semi-windup—Terry Adams, vs. Jack Price, 145 pounds.
Preliminaries—Toby Montoya, vs. Frankie Smith, 118 pounds.
Onlie Brownie, vs. Kid Hogan, 145 pounds.
Young Herman, vs. Bobbie Herman, 118 pounds.
Spike Brown, vs. Hank O'Day, 140 pounds.

That the Sailor Ritter-Kid Mexico main event at the Delhi arena next Wednesday night will be bolestered by a strong bill of preliminary bouts was assured here today when Boyd Ellis, promoter, announced his full card for the evening's entertainment.

Terry Adams, Tommy McFarland's hard socking protege from Seal Beach, has been matched with Jack Price, Los Angeles boy, for the semi-windup fracas. Adams, one of the most pleasing boxers that has appeared here, will have his hands full with Price who handed Buzzsaw Burrows a rough four-round battle at Delhi about a year back.

Price, Mexico Work.
Price is now with Kid Mexico at Murrieta Hot Springs and according to word drifting down this way the pair have been putting in many hours of conditioning exercise together. The Huntington Beach middleweight is determined to show up his critics who have had no hesitancy in declaring he will never last the four rounds with the husky Ritter who drubbed both Jack Iman and "Sunny" Goodrich in the last ten days.

Against the average opponent, Mexico has been content to take his training halfheartedly. But he knows how good Ritter is and if he is not in shape he can have no excuses.

Aside from Bert Colima, Ritter probably is the leading 158-pounder in the west right now. The sailor has improved remarkably in the last year. Always a terrific puncher, with a knockout swat in either paddy, he has added to his asset considerable boxing skill and a knowledge of self-defense.

Adams Hard Puncher.
Adams, who fights in the semiwindup, is a hard hitter and a fair boxer. His bet blow is a straight right that goes out like a shot from the shoulder. When it lands it will damage any of the boys.

Art Braathen, who has one of the best strings of glove experts in the state, has recommended Frankie Smith as the boy to stop the sensational winning streak of the clever little Toby Montoya. The pair tangle in the feature "prelim."

Onlie Brownie, an Orange boy, makes his debut here with Kid

ning Witt, Dugan and Ruth in the first inning on twelve pitched balls, witness what is expected to be one of the hardest fought classics of recent years.

Seldom has such a great field of entries been grouped together in one meet and most of the critics predict that at least four records will go by the boards before the relay runners have flashed across the last white mark.

It is generally believed that the championship rests between the Huntington Beach and Hollywood teams, the same squad which battled for the Southern California title here two weeks ago.

One Los Angeles expert has it figured that the meet depends on the ability of Milt Nash, the Huntington Beach 440 star, to finish first in the one-lap race. Pollock of Sacramento and Webber of Sutter City, both said to be capable of 51 flat, are expected to give Nash a hunt for first honors. From his great exhibition in the All-Southern when he finished four yards ahead of the field with plenty in reserve local fans believe Nash is a sure shot to win the quarter.

Morton Kaer of Red Bluff and Ross Nichols of Huntington Beach should provide a ton of thrills in the high hurdles. Both are good for 15½ seconds or better and Charlie Bickmore, also of Huntington Beach, is not far behind them in ability. If Nichols can beat the Red Bluff boy to the tape he will have done much for his team's championship chances.

Willard and Firpo
BETTING FAVORITES

NEW YORK, May 11.—Jess Willard and Luis Firpo have been made heavy favorites to emerge from the ring at the Yankee stadium tomorrow as "logical contenders" for the heavyweight championship.

Willard has been established as a 13 to 11 favorite over Floyd Johnson and Firpo 3 to 1 over Mc-Auliffe with no McAuliffe cash in sight.

The odds on Willard are misleading and opinion is most unanimous that the crude, light hitting Johnson hardly has a chance, but those who like short end gambles and the "youthage" proverb are believing almost against their judgment.
Firpo is such a pronounced favorite that the backers of the Argentine giant might go four crive to one if there happened to be any money at all to back McAuliffe.

Tex Rickard, who is dithering the show for the committee, said that 70,000 spectators could be accommodated and that he expected to see every seat filled.

Tustin Baseballers Prepare To Turn In Suits, Quit Season

(Special to The Register)
TUSTIN, May 11.—With only one more game on the league schedule and the chance for the championship gone, members of the Tustin high school baseball team are nearly ready to turn in their suits for the season.

The boys started out in a slump and were defeated by the Fullerton nine by the score of 13 to 0.
The next fray with Garden Grove was lost but was protested and played over on the Santa Ana diamond. In the play off Tustin won 8 to 1.

The next game with Huntington Beach resulted in a 3 to 3 tie.
Tustin trounced Orange, 8 to 6.
The Santa Ana-Tustin game was postponed and is the only game remaining to be played by the locals. Whittier got the breaks last Friday and won the hardest fought contest of the year by the score of 4 to 3. Wednesday afternoon the nine invaded Anaheim, winning 8
to 6.

ters guessing during the entire

QUIMET BESTED IN BRITISH GOLF PLAY

Last American Hope Loses Match to Wethered As Rain Drowns Course

DEAL, England, May 11.—Francis Quimet, the United States' last hope in the British amateur golf championships, was eliminated today in the semi-finals by Roger Wethered.

The Britisher won two up and one to play.

The match was played in a driving rain and the Brookline star, who bore on his slender shoulders all Yankee hopes of achieving a victory such as had not been won since 1904, when Travis took home the amateur title, was not on his game. When he missed a short putt at the first hole hopes of his followers fell. He evened the match at the sixth, but from then on Wethered always was Quimet's master.

Two up at the turn, the Britisher went steadily out ahead until at the 23th he had an almost unbeatable advantage of four up with five to play. Then Quimet made a gallant stand and won two of the next three holes, halving one and leaving Wethered dormie two.

They halved the 17th and the match was over.

The finals will be fought out tomorrow between Britishers, for Robert Harris beat Douglas Grant, American resident of London, in the other bracket of the semifinals, five up and four to play.

Wethered was unquestionably the class of the large field of nearly 200 British entries which finally engulfed the dozen American aspirants for the amateur title.

This morning Quimet defeated Cyril Tolley with ease and his golf convinced experts he was due to win over Wethered. But the latter, a finalist before, came through under the most difficult conditions which prevented either playing his best game.

RADIO CORPORATION TO OPEN NEW PLANT

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Radio Corporation of America has given out the following statement: "Broadcast Central, the new radio station of the Radio Corporation of America at Aeolian hall, which has been the subject of considerable speculation among radio listeners who have heard the station testing with call 2XK, will be opened May 15."

"Located in the heart of the city's musical and theatrical district, where entertainment of the highest order is ever available, this station will offer to the American public the most elaborate radio programs with a degree of faithfulness in reproduction that marks the beginning of a new era of broadcasting. The wires, which tower 400 feet above the street on Aeolian hall, at Fifth avenue and Forty-second street, provide two antennas, and this superstation will transmit two broadcast programs simultaneously on different wavelengths."

"The closing of station WJZ at Newark, N. J., now operated jointly by the Radio Corporation of America and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, will coincide with the opening of Broadcast Central. The well known call 'WJZ' will be retained for transmission from the Aeolian hall station on 455 meters, while the call WJY will be used for the other wavelength of 405 meters, both of which wavelengths have recently been allocated to the new station."

"Dual Program Planned
"The new station is fitted with a double antenna and two independent transmitters which will permit a dual program to be broadcast, one of that of classical or serious entertainment; the other, popular airs, dance music and lectures."

"The Radio Corporation of America has made a thorough analysis of the types of programs best suited to the requirements of the public and this study has revealed the fact that generally the radio public may be divided into two classes, those who prefer classical or similar entertainment and those desiring dance music and popular airs."

"Not only will transmission be carried on from the two studios, which are a part of the station, but the main recital hall of Aeolian hall has been connected to a switchboard in the station, thus providing at frequent intervals another source of the finest music obtainable."

"Guard Against Interruption
"To guard against interruption in programs, two spare transmitters are installed together with the necessary controlling apparatus which will enable the operator to make an instantaneous change from one set to another should any trouble occur."

"Broadcast Central is a model station both in electrical design and operating facilities, incorporating the most advanced ideas of engineers. One of the outstanding improvements is the 'checking up' of the broadcast programs for clearness in transmission. This is accomplished by a 'moving picture' device connected with the antenna, which shows at a glance the perfection in reproduction of music or voice as the radio waves leave the antenna. Any distortion occurring during a rendition may be instantly corrected by the operator, who watches the electrical vibrations as they radiate into space."

Questions on Farm Problem Answered By Senator Capper

NEW YORK, May 11.—When George Washington became president, 97 persons out of every 100 were farmers. Today only 30 out of every 100 are farmers.

What is the reason? What does it mean? What has driven the farmer away from the soil? What are his grievances? What will bring him back? What does the farmer want?

These questions, vitally affecting the living conditions of all the people, are answered by Senator Arthur Capper in an article, "The Farmers Are Waking Up," in the May issue of Hearst's International Magazine. Senator Capper is the leader of the farm bloc in the senate, publisher of a chain of farm papers, and probably is in closer touch with the farmers of America than any other man.

Wintersburg, Smeltzer

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, May 11.—W. F. Slater was elected clerk of the Oceanview grammar school board at the annual business meeting held at the Slater home. The other directors are E. W. Fox and Fred Mallette. No definite idea can be gained by the board as to when the building and remodeling of the schoolhouse can be begun, as the bonds are held up in Los Angeles in some unaccountable manner, the reason for which the trustees can not find.

Everything possible to rush the bonds through and have all preliminary red tape seen to was done by the trustees immediately the bonds were voted, hoping to be able to begin the work as soon as school is out.

The bonds were sold some time ago, but this must be advertised for thirty days, according to law, before building activities can begin, but this added delay has wrought havoc to these plans. Even at the best now it will not be possible to have the building in readiness for the opening of the fall term, it is stated.

The resignation of Prof. R. M. Harrell, principal of the Oceanview school, and Miss Ethel Eastham, teacher of the primary grade, were handed in at the board meeting. Prof. Harrell has taught here the past two terms and Miss Eastham the past four.

Mrs. L. Moldal and Mrs. J. A. Porter visited Mrs. Maynard Benteley at Anaheim Tuesday.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fuller has the whooping cough. The Fullers are house guests of Mrs. Fuller's aunt, Mrs. G. W. Nichols and family and are from Mesa, Ariz.

The girls enjoyed a season of lively games and then came the refreshment hours with its service of delicious ice cream and cake temptingly served by Bonny's mother.

The prettily arranged table was decorated with fragrant sweet peas and a large birthday cake in pink centered it. Bonny's guest list included Edna Thomas, Geraldine Gardner, Evelyn Ely, Marie McMillan, June Slater, Lennie Nelson, Lillie Peazy, Allene Russell, Marjorie Cowling, Isabel Russell, Anna May Jordan, Pearl Clemens, Lois Vandruft, Alma Kanawyer, Cecelia Haley and Elizabeth Wardwell, the latter of Huntington Beach.

A surprise party was recently tendered Mrs. Elmer Gothard, formerly of this place, at her present home in Santa Ana and quite a number of the relatives from here and elsewhere were present. The party was of the "hard time" variety and afforded genuine sport for all. An out-of-doors webbie bake furnished fun for the supper hour and other appetizing "eats" together with the wines completed the hard time supper.

The guests included Mrs. Mary E. Clemens, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tenn, Mr. and Mrs. Will McGuire, and Mrs. Fanny Clyde of this place, Mr. and Mrs. George Gano and family of Fullerton, and Mrs. Belle Clemens of Santa Ana, and Mr. and Mrs. James Maddux of Anaheim.

WINTERSBURG AND SMELTZER, May 11.—The ladies of the Home Missionary society of the Wintersburg church held their

A short lesson period was enjoyed and this was conducted by Mrs. J. Scott Willmarth with Mrs. George Murdock as devotional leader.

Mrs. Pratt, who is a member and formerly of this place, has invited the ladies to spend the day with her and this meeting is being eagerly anticipated.

A discussion of plans for the annual Missionary bazaar which will be held in the fall, was held and it was decided to commence making articles for this at once.

The ladies spent Wednesday afternoon sewing garments being made for the relief fund of clothing. Mrs. J. Scott Willmarth was appointed custodian of the clothing which will be added to from time to time and distributed to any deserving person by whom it is needed. Mrs. Kettler and Mrs. Moore served a refreshing drink of iced fruitade with wafers to the company and Mrs. Jones pleased with several musical selections during the social hour.

The company present included Mrs. George Murdock, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Soden, Mrs. W. F. Slater, Mrs. J. Scott Willmarth, Mrs. Raymond Beem, Mrs. William Kettler, Mrs. Albert Ruoff, Mrs. A. Stefanzi, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Brul Kettler.

John Murdy and wife, who lived in the house now occupied by the Beems have moved to the A. H. Moore home ranch.

Chris Nelson and Oscar Morgan have purchased the S. M. Curtis filling station at the Oceanview corner. Morgan is in charge of the station. Mr. Curtis and family continue to reside in the house at the station.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells of Tustin, were Sunday evening visitors at the P. O. Wells home.

Mrs. A. C. Wortz of Long Beach, came Tuesday for a few days' visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Freece.

The Cream Pitcher

TODAY'S club column is written at the special request of Jane Ellison, who is the secretary of the Borden Recipe Club. When Jane Ellison was a little girl, she and her brothers and sisters were never allowed to buy candy.

But every Saturday afternoon, Jane Ellison's mother would make some special kind of candy for them. It was a genuine treat for everybody, and on that one day, the children could have all that they wanted.

Some dietitians favor giving a child one or two pieces of candy after dinner every day. But Jane Ellison's mother's plan was a very happy one after all. You are absolutely sure of what goes into the candy you make yourself. Also it really satisfies the child to have all that he wants—within reason, of course—once in a long time.

Here are Jane Ellison's mother's favorites. If you know any better recipes than these won't you let us have them?

UNCOOKED FONDANT

White of 1 egg
1 tablespoon evaporated milk
1 teaspoon cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
Confectioner's sugar

Put egg white, water, milk and flavoring into a bowl and beat until well blended. Add the sugar, a little at a time, beating until well mixed before each addition. Continue adding a little sugar at a time until the mixture is stiff enough to knead. Take out on a board and knead until smooth. This fondant may be used as a stuffing for nuts or for fruits or centers of chocolates and bonbons. In making bonbons, the fondant may be colored green, pink, lavender or orange with a vegetable paste and other flavors substituted for the vanilla.

WALNUT CREAMS

Fondant, English walnut meats: Shape fondant in balls. Flatten and place halves of English walnuts on each side. Pecan meats may be used in place of walnuts.

STUFFED DATES

Dates, Fondant, Granulated Sugar: Remove stones from dates. Roll fondant in small cylinders and place in dates where stone was removed. Roll in granulated sugar.

ALMOND CREAMS

Blanched Almonds, Fondant, Granulated Sugar: Cover almonds with fondant. Shape like a very small egg and roll in granulated sugar. Filbert meats may be substituted for the almond if desired.

FRUIT CREAMS

Candied or Maraschino Cherries or Candied Pineapple, Fondant: Roll out fondant about 1/4 inch in thickness. Cut into rounds about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Roll around small piece of pineapple or candied cherry, leaving a small portion exposed. 3 cups maple sugar.

MAPLE CROQUETTES

3 cups maple sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup broken pecan meats
Boil together the sugar and diluted milk until the mixture forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water.
Remove from fire, cool, and beat until creamy. Add nut meats and drop in spoonfuls on waxed paper.

DATES STUFFED WITH NUTS

Wash dates, remove the pits. Fill with pecan or hickory nut meats and roll in granulated sugar.

Because of its creamy richness, Borden's Evaporated Milk is particularly good for uncooked fondant. It gives the fondant a flavor and consistency that you can get in no other way.

For cooked candies, such as the maple croquettes above, or for ordinary fudge, it is superior to ordinary bottle milk because it has less tendency to curdle.

If you would like to be a member of the Borden Recipe Club write to Jane Ellison and send her your name and the $50 institution fee. Address: 48 Borden Bldg., 350 Madison Ave., New York.

RUBE DAY OBSERVED BY ORANGE SCHOOL

—Photographed by Gibson

These charming girls of the Orange union high school were among those prominent in the "O" day celebration today. This morning then went to the county park for a picnic. This afternoon they are advertising "The Taming of the Shrew," the first Shakespearean play ever produced by a high school in the county which is to be staged May 18. The girls asked that their identity not be divulged to afford their friends the fun of identifying them.

OLIVE PROGRAM ATTRACTING BIG CROWD

OLIVE, May 11.—This little city, nestling in the foothills, was today prepared for one of the biggest crowds in its history, expected to be present at the barbecue celebration under the joint auspices of the Orange Community chamber of commerce and the Olive improvement association.

Barbecue Two Steers
It was at first thought that 1000 persons would attend the barbecue and arrangements were made to cook one steer but now two steers will be prepared and a crowd of several thousand is expected.

A number of cases of "hot dogs" are being held in reserve in case the barbecued meat runs out. Robert Sparks of West Anaheim and A. L. Carter are the barbecue artists.

The barbecue, as well as the entire program, with the exception of the dance, will be held on Olive Heights near the reservoir furnishing a view unsurpassed in beauty into the valley which stretches below to the ocean.

The celebration started about mid afternoon and will last until late tonight, when dancing will hold sway at Olive hall, several blocks from the handstand.

The Anaheim high school band has been engaged to open the festivities with a concert starting at 3:30 and lasting until 4 o'clock. At 4 o'clock several acts of va-

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 11.—Bush Finkel, San Francisco clubman, attorney and raconteur, who is recovering here from an operation performed a year ago in that city, is authority for the latest prohibition "yarn" with an authentic base.

Finkel carries a bottle of gin with him on a physician's prescription. While parked in The Texas, leading Fort Worth hotel, a colored porter caught sight of the bottle. After reading the label, he laid it down with a sigh.

"Boss," he said, "I knows you ain't gonna come across, but won't you jus' sprinkle a little of that on the lapel of mah coat?"

deville procured through the courtesy of E. D. Yost, manager of the Yost theater, Santa Ana, will appear, presenting the same acts that will appear at the showhouse later that night.

A series of aesthetic dances by the Misses Sally and Dorothy Coe, students at the Orange grade schools, will be presented from 4:45 to 5:00 o'clock.

The free barbecue will get under way promptly at 5 o'clock, lasting until 6:30 o'clock, when the award of a free lot in the Olive Investment company tract will be made.

Following the award, a radio concert, interspersed with music furnished by the Orange high school jazz band, will hold the interest of the crowd until 8 o'clock, when a dance, the wind-up of the evening, will take place at Olive hall.

The radio concert is given through the courtesy of Earl Cosair of the Orange Tire hospital, who will install a large outfit on the scene.

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to get permanent relief from constipation?

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be surely looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoonfuls are sufficient; for severe cases with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that.

Being cooked and crumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day.

You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran— and remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

PILE OF BONES MAY REVEAL OLD CRIME

ORANGE, May 11.—Identification of the skeleton found in the mountains in the vicinity of Gold Mountain mine as that of Fred H. McGowan, pioneer miner of Redlands, who disappeared in January, 1921, will be the object of a party headed by Sheriff W. A. Shay and Coroner J. B. Hanna, of San Bernardino county.

The skeleton was found by H. J. Butts of Orange while on a fishing trip to Deep creek. While returning from the outing Mr. Butts came upon the gossamer relics. Arriving at Orange, he notified Marshal W. E. Jemison of Orange, who in turn notified Sheriff Shay by telephone.

Bones Found Scattered
According to Mr. Butts the skull was missing. The remaining bones were not intact. About 50 yards away were found a pair of shoes and portions of socks. These latter relics are expected to go a long way to prove identification.

Mr. McGowan was 82 years old and left the Rock Springs cattle ranch on January 15, 1921. Following his disappearance a wide search was conducted for him by Sheriff Shay and deputies. Owing to the deep snow in the mountains, it was impossible to follow McGowan's tracks and the search had to be abandoned. From the time the aged man disappeared and the time the sheriff's office was notified the heavy falls of snow had occurred in the mountains and practically all tracks were obliterated.

Foul Play Not Suspected
The party leaving today will be prepared to make a complete examination of the remains found by Butts. If they should prove to be those of McGowan minute inspection will be made to determine if he came to his death by foul means. There was nothing connected with his disappearance to suspect that he had been lured to his death by an assassin, but Sheriff Shay will leave nothing undone to clear up the two-year-old mystery.

That the skeleton found by Butts is that of McGowan was an opinion expressed last night by Sheriff Shay. He recalled that at the time of his search in 1921 he predicted that some day the old man would be found dead in the vicinity of the spot where Butts found the bones.

However, the investigating party will leave nothing undone to make a positive identity. If the remains are not those of McGowan, such discovery will uncover another mystery which will prove as deep as the one surrounding McGowan's disappearance.

FREDERICKS' EXPENSES IN CAMPAIGN WERE NIL
SACRAMENTO, May 10.—John D. Fredericks, successful candidate at the special election held in Los Angeles last week to name a successor to the late Congressman Henry Z. Osborne did not spend a cent in his campaign, nor did any of his friends contribute to his "war chest," according to Fredericks' statement of expenses which was filed today with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan. The statement declared even the filing fee was not paid by Fredericks, although the fee is marked paid.

VALENCIAS ARE SERVED KING IN LONDON

ANAHETM, May 11.—His Royal Highness, King George III, of England and Her Royal Highness, Queen Mary, are dining on California Valencia Oranges, according to word received from London by Malcolm Fraser, manager of the Third Annual California Valencia Orange Show which will be held here May 22 to 30, inclusive.

Fraser is in receipt of the following letter from C. B. D. McClosky, prominent Valencia grower, who is now touring Europe with his wife and daughter:

"My Dear Fraser:
Essaying an American hunch I essayed to deliver two boxes of Valencias to Windsor Castle a few days ago, and after various conferences with Scotland Yard, succeeded in getting them delivered to the Lord High Keeper of the Pantry, or whatever his name is. Today I received a note thanking me for the gift and signed 'George, Rex.'"

"When I first sent them, my man was stopped and both he and the oranges were escorted to Scotland Yard. They thought an attempt was being made to poison their Majesties, and haled me before some Lord who is head of the bureau. They made me eat, in their presence, three of the fruit selected while I was not looking."

"After three days of almost continuous conferences, my appearance reached the conclusion that I had no designs on the life of their Majesties and permitted them to be delivered."

"With best personal regards, I am, (Signed) C. B. D. McCLOSKEY."

By a strange coincidence, the oranges delivered to their Majesties were from the pack grown on McClosky's ranch.

SWING URGES SOUTHLAND TO UNITE ON BIG DAM PROJECT

Southern California cities, particularly those of the farming districts, should make every effort to convince Congress of the advisability of constructing a dam across the Colorado river at Boulder Canyon, Representative Phil D. Swing told sixty representatives of various municipalities of California, Nevada and Arizona in Fullerton late yesterday.

The meeting, called by Major John Bacon of San Diego, was under the direction of the southern section of the League of California Municipalities. Mayor Bacon, in opening the session, spoke in favor of the provisions of the Johnson bill. The obstacles in the way of its passage were discussed by Representative Swing.

It was the sense of the meeting that particular attention should be paid by the various committees to a plan now being formulated to provide for the repayment of the entire cost of the Boulder Canyon dam. This, it is understood, would be handled through the distribution of electric power rights to the respective cities and farming districts of the Southwest.

Importance Told
"This project," said Mayor Coulter of Fullerton, "is of the utmost importance to the people of Southern California. It is of particular importance to Orange county. If we are sincere in our efforts to promote prosperity we will leave no stone unturned in the development of the Boulder dam plan."

It was agreed that a committee of five should formulate a plan of organization and report to the league at a meeting to be called by President Bacon. Following is the board of five appointed by the chairman:

George L. Hoodenpyl, Long Beach; M. J. Carr, Pasadena; Leslie R. Saunders, Las Vegas; S. C. Evans, Riverside; Earl C. Pound, Imperial Valley.

Those Who Attended
Following are the delegates and the cities they represent who were present at the meeting: John L. Bacon, Mayor of San Diego; Phil D. Swing, Imperial; R. T. Davies, Fullerton; N. C. Wel-sel, city attorney, Anaheim; William Stark, board of trustees, Anaheim; M. L. Binnie, city clerk, Chino; John Brown, city trustee, Chino; Ralph C. Roman, city attorney, Chino; W. J. Tebo, Chino.

TIN CANS FOR PAVING.
PASADENA, May 11.—City officials are awaiting with interest the result of a new plan to be tried out here for the disposal of empty tin cans gathered from back yards and vacant lots. The cans, together with gravel, will be pressed and used for surfacing roads in the Arroyo Seco, near the Rose Bowl stadium.

TRACK TEAM IS ENTERTAINED BY LIONS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 11.—The Lions club entertained the high school track team at the luncheon at Huntington Inn at noon.

They were introduced by the secretary of the club and given a rousing Lions' roar. Ray Walker, the coach; Principal G. M. Jones; Ross Nichols, high hurdler; Charles Bickmore, pole vaulter; Milt Nash, 440-yard runner, and Merle Elliott, high jumper, were the guests.

The boys are going to the state track meet tomorrow and expect to bring back the trophy, or rather keep it at the high school, where it now rests in a beautiful glass case made by the pupils of Coach Walker in the manual training school.

Van Lee Hood of Los Angeles made a splendid address on "Industries in Southern California."

Rev. G. M. Porter of Santa Ana gave an eloquent talk on "Wall Building." His theme dealt with the walls built between business men on matters which could easily be settled by the "get-together spirit" and lauded the Lions club for being past the Chinese wall days, which serve no purpose except to cause strife and trouble, while road building tends to broaden the character and makes for better understanding of the spirit of "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

M. A. McCreery, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was a guest of the club and came over to say a word about the track team. He went to Chicago with the "boys" last year and is always on hand as their booster. He says he may go this year also.

POSTOFFICE WILL BE RATED HIGHER

ANAHEIM, May 11.—May, the month of the 1923 Valencia Orange show, will be remembered in years to come as the month in which the Anaheim post office advanced to the first class after a year of business, totaling $42,070.36 in revenues.

The rating by the United States postal department will be made during the latter part of the month, to take effect July 1. The receipts for the past year showed an increase of $7662 over the revenues of 1921. Money orders issued during March of this year totaled approximately $20,000, as compared with $14,000 during the same month last year.

The following table of receipts will show the rapid rate of increase made at the local post office:

	1921.	1922.
First quarter	$ 8,032.97	$ 9,178.07
Second quar.	7,814.20	9,099.30
Third quar.	7,920.71	10,346.25
Fourth quar.	10,641.06	13,446.74
Totals	$34,408.88	$42,070.36

The receipts for the first quarter of this year amounted to $10,543.81, according to J. Frederick Ahlborn, postmaster.

Visitors to Valencia show last year who return again this month after an absence of a year will see a new Anaheim. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in erecting new public buildings and business blocks during the last 12 months, and the record of a home-day has been surpassed, according to records in the building inspector's office. With more than $900,000 spent during the first four months of this year, persons who have been watching the rapid expansion of Anaheim are predicting that the building permits for the year will reach the $3,000,000 mark. Permits issued in January of this year totaled $343,210; in February, $131,620, and in March $194,165.

We Stop Falling Hair

Grow New Hair in 90 Days or Your Money Refunded

Costs Nothing
Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess 3-bottle treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. All we require is his signature showing you have purchased a ninety-day treatment. If it fails, we refund your money. Hence you assume no risk making this test.

This New Way

Science discovers falling, lustreless hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it. Hair actually grown on 91 heads in 100.

This is to offer you new hair—lustrous, beautiful, attractive—or money refunded under our 90-day treatment plan.

It offers, too, to stop falling hair. If we fail, the treatment costs you nothing. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Hence we assume the risk.

Thousands of women have made this test. Results are amazing. The charm of wonderful hair is now available to any one who chooses to have it.

The Infected Sebum in Your Hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But frequently it becomes infected. It cokes on the scalp; clogs the follicles and plucks them. Germs by the millions breed in it, then feed upon the hair. Soon your hair begins falling. You note too how lifeless it appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee it. We urge you to give this new way a fair trial. It is folly not to test it; for, remember, you take no risk.

Go to any drug-gist or department store today. Ask for the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage on the 3-bottle treatment plan. Written guarantee accompanies it.

States public health service in a study of the predisposing cause of tuberculosis.

Children, particularly under the age of five years, are said to be most susceptible to infection. Attention is called to the fact that tubercle bacilli are capable of remaining virulent in the human body for many years and that an apparently healthy person may lose immunity to them. The public health service states that one of the commonest causes of the development of tuberculosis is poor nourishment, adding that "the weakened resist tuberculosis well; the underfed yield readily."

The service recommends better food for young children; depletion of the hasty breakfast and luncheon of men; calls attention to the generally prevailing lack of knowledge of food values, and says that diet should be suited to the age of the individual.

impervious to her light blows. With feline ferocity she bared her nails then, and ripped his cheeks until they were smeared with blood. Bodine did not release his however.

"You fightin' wildcat," he mumbled through gritted teeth. "I'll kiss you if it kills me."

Try as hard as she might, Mercedes could not hold him off. His cruel, sensuous mouth drew close to her own. To add to her horror Basilio shrieked again and again. She redoubled her efforts to get free. Bodine pinioned her arms against her hips. She felt some thing back ripping her sleeve. It was Buck's revolver. Automatic! By her finger he closed upon it. With a gasp she pulled it out of the holster. Bodine felt the gun-barrel boring into his stomach. His face grew white.

"Get back!" Mercedes gasped.

"En seguida! Al momento! or you'll be sorry."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS—

Like Father, Like Son

—BY BLOSSER

LOS ANGELES ARE GETTING OFF NIGHTIES

LOS ANGELES, May 11—Horrible!

Quick, page the outraged shade of poor Mrs. Tut-nkh-Amen. Haven't you heard?

Angeleno beauties are sleeping in knee length nighties in order to keep cool this hot weather—yes, you guessed it—they call 'em "Tut Tut Nighties."

Anyway, together with the new bare-back French teddies, black lace bath robes for red haired widows, nude toned stockings, naked arms and overly exposed feet, it looks as if the girls will be able to keep their temperatures down on the Pacific coast.

Meanwhile, cool styles from all ages and countries are the delight alike of all women.

And in the vividly gay shops of Los Angeles are to be found all kinds of refreshing costumes from the airy Algen boloro suits to the placid symmetry of the Indo-Chinese sports attire, from the demurely aprem-midi inspired by the France of the Second Empire to the meditative mummy dinner gown.

Breton paleottes, Persian dresses, American sweaters and Egyptian turbans!

Hurrah for the hot spell, boys, and let not this spurge in internationalism drive you. They're the same old girls.

X-Ray Chiffon Watch for the French garter and the X-ray chiffons!

To be sure, ankles, alas, have been lost to the world, but, anatomically speaking, the left ear, the nape of the neck—that kissable section so long ignored in the enthusiasm of ankles—and arms will be exhibited.

Speaking of the left ear, the coolest coiffure at the moment is to sweep all of the hair into a coil over the right ear—thus liberating the left ear and the nape of the neck.

For those who consider the art of dressing as a more serious matter than that of undressing, let it be said that the renaissance of laces this season offers hope for prudence and comfort combined.

Metallic Laces Metallic lace dinner gowns are quite the vogue, while many a mauve, lilac or apricot chiffon quittedly frilled with antique silver or gold lace, is to be found in the fashion Meccas.

Almond green transparent crepes, weighed with crystal beading; copper lace gowns of Egyptian silhouette, blue-mauve toned frocks, with scalloped hems edged with platinum lace and adorned with decorative garlands of imported flowers, and little bouffant dresses with entire backs created of one frill of lace after another, are among the vagaries of the modes.

Practically the entire foot is being exposed in the chic and brightly hued little sandals for afternoon wear, only a wisp of nude colored stocking veiling the naughty pink toes from the thrilled glances of the jaded bon vivants.

Latest Lingerie And what there has been left to teddies has been slashed up the thighs and across the chest and latticed with gay ribbons.

Even the ultra-discreet dowagers who still sleep in ankle length nighties have slashed these erstwhile respectable garments under the arms to a little below the waist.

OLD PROSPECTORS FALL FOR "LIZZIE"

OROVILLE, Cal., May 11.—The old-time prospector, picturesque figure of the west, with his heavy boots, shak pants, mackinaw shirt, long beard, sombrero; he still exists, but his old burro—"Lizzie" is no more. He has fallen for the "Lizzie."

Where the burro carefully picked its way, the flivver now rattles along. Maybe it doesn't climb mountain trails quite as elegantly—but it climbs 'em somehow—and oh, boy! How it makes the wind whistle through the whiskers on the flat stretches!

George Eiler, an old-time prospector here, learned something of the lizzie to aid in mining. He started out. He had learned how to run it and how to keep on going—but he didn't know how to stop. After the wreck he announced he would get another and take driving lessons.

EVENING SALUTATION

Let wickedness escape as it may at the bar, it never fails of doing justice upon itself; for every guilty person is his own hangman.—Seneca.

RHINE ARMY EXPENSES

It is "interesting but not conclusive" to learn from Paris that an allied conference has promised the United States preferential treatment in the payment of her Rhine army costs. Such a promise was made last year. The present promise is conditioned on the clearing up, at a future conference, of "the remaining juridical point concerning America's legal position toward Germany."

This is a puzzling point, no doubt, to anyone who looks merely at the legal aspect of it. The United States made a separate peace with Germany, but has depended on the Reparations Commission, an allied body, for payment out of money collected from Germany. The Allies have divided up all the money they got from Germany so far, leaving Uncle Sam holding the bag. As they are not getting anything from Germany now, the prospect of reimbursement for the cost of keeping the American watch on the Rhine for four years after the armistice is none too bright. The bill runs up into hundreds of millions of dollars.

A business man would probably go direct to Germany for collection. And Germany would probably pay the American bill in preference to any other, to win the good will of this country.

The modest ultimate consumer has more power over the price of sugar than the government has. If he wants to foil the sugar-extortioners, all he has to do is to buy less. That will save him money on sugar, doctor bills and dentist bills.

GIFTS OF BAD SANITATION

A father recently wrote to a prominent physician as follows:

"We have a healthy boy of 4 years. A neighbor strongly advises my wife to take him to visit friends whose children have measles and mumps in order that he may have those diseases before he is old enough to go to school. Your opinion in good strong language will be appreciated."

It is cheering evidence of the advance of public knowledge and practices in regard to health that the neighbors' suggestion sounds idiotic if not actually criminal. Enlightened persons—parents, teachers and physicians dealing with children—no longer hold to the ancient superstition that every child must have these erroneously called "children's diseases." An increasing number of youngsters is growing up escaping one or more of those infections.

The old habit of lightly speaking of "children's diseases" and lightly regarding them as a minor nuisance, is now outworn. They are recognized as the serious things they are, to be eliminated and avoided. Measles causes more deaths than scarlet fever. In the town from which the inquiry came, measles causes more deaths than whooping-cough. Measles, mumps, whooping-cough, scarlet fever and all the rest are the "gifts of bad sanitation or bad public hygiene," says the irate doctor. They all carry the possibility of grave and lasting after-effects as menacing to the child's future well-being as the initial disease itself. The best thing to do is to keep away from them.

When it comes to a matter of clothes, the young people are willing to leave off where their parents began.—New York Herald.

THE FAITHLESS TURK

The way the Turks have been treating the French lately is rather amusing to the casual onlooker from this side of the water.

France, it will be remembered, started all the trouble by helping the Turks to get on their feet again after the Allies had put them thoroughly out of business. The Turkish defeat was richly deserved. It looked like the opportunity, desired for centuries, for European civilization to get rid of the Turkish peril. But France, for her own purposes, supplied the Turks with arms and money, got their riddled armies into fighting trim again and backed them against Greece. France hoped to get profit out of it through business concessions, and a firmer grip of her own on Asia Minor, and wanted to strengthen Turkey against the British.

Everybody knows what happened. The Turks, under Kemal Pasha, came back so vigorously that, having smashed the Greeks, they decided they had not been licked by the Allies in the World War, after all. So they demanded Constantinople and a lot of other things, and have been demanding ever since—and getting most of what they demand.

While feeling their oats, they blandly handed over to an American syndicate rich concessions formerly given to France. They have forgotten that they owe anything whatever to France. Now France feels obliged to send a new army to Syria, to protect her rights there against the Turks. And England is smiling broadly, in spite of her own chagrin.

It will be America's turn next to feel chagrined, if Americans, publicly or privately, put any faith in Turkish promises. It is the same old Turk, as faithless as a Bolshevik to his plighted word and to anybody but himself.

Henry Ford says this year will be the most prosperous since the war. We hope he will give credit to the political party under whose policies the prosperity was made possible—Sedalia (Mo.) Capital.

SAFE SPECULATION

"There is no infallible rule," says a business writer, "by which a speculator may play safe." But there is a rule which would enable him to avoid the worst dangers. It is this: "Speculate on properties, not schemes."

A property, of course, is anything possessing intrinsic value. It is tangible. Even if it deteriorates in value it retains some cash value, and can be sold.

A scheme, on the other hand, is intangible. It is an idea, with no existence in the material world. It may be worth a fortune or worth nothing at all. And there is no way of telling at the start which it will turn out to be.

Fortunately for progress, there are persons who can afford to speculate in schemes. They do so, losing frequently, and winning something like once out of every 50 attempts. The Bank of England was a scheme that won.

The moral is the same old one, which apparently cannot be told too often, that no one should speculate who cannot afford to lose. The writer quoted above suggests that no one should invest in schemes until he has had 10 years' experience with properties. If more people believed and accepted this advice there would be less robbing of widows and orphans, farmers, workmen, clerks, doctors, preachers and teachers, by the blithe but uncertain promoter.

Our foreign policy is just about what it was when sixteen million Americans voted for it.—Newark (N. J.) Star-Eagle.

Strawberries "In Season"

Fresno Republican.

This is the beginning of time when things are "in season."

Enjoy them while they are "in season."

The flavor of the strawberry is wonderful when it is "in season."

The apricot, the peach, the grape, the orange and the grape fruit will each be in season.

Life has to go right on, through 365 days in the year, in spite of the seasons. And one of the triumphs of our modern civilization has been the extent to which we human beings and the domestic animals that are dependent upon us, as we on them, are made independent of the changes of the year. We do not stuff ourselves in the harvest time and then starve through the remainder of the months. We and the squirrels alike lay up stores of nuts, or dried fruits, or we preserve in glass or tin. And unlike the squirrels, we can plant in hothouses, or we can ship long distances, from one climate to another, so that we transmute the seasons, whether for cucumbers or strawberries. And if we are thrifty, and forehanded, then we even up as between seasons. We "carry over" from one year to another, the lean and the fat are equalized.

And yet, there is a value and a beauty, as well as a use, in having things "in season."

Is there anything sadder than an out-of-season strawberry, when we compare it to the product that is honestly in its own time and place?

If the color is just right, then the flavor is off. And the color itself may be suspicious.

There is a reality about things being "in season."

We should recognize that the thing that is out of season is, at best, a substitute for reality.

And, too often, our yearning to have things out of season is a notion rather than an honest physical demand.

When we have the things that we ought to want, then we begin to merely think that we want things.

We want strawberries out of season just because we are rich enough to clever enough to get them, rather than because we really want them.

All our lives, we may yearn for ocean travel, until the time comes when we can go to sea, and then we are seasick.

If we have acquired a fixed idea for the sea, we may persist in going on the water, even though we never really like it.

We may insist on getting strawberries for Christmas, even though we have to pay ten prices for them, just because we have persisted in the fancy.

The healthy man wants things in season. His body is fitted for the season.

Unhappy for us, if our minds or our souls get out of season.

The things of May ought not to be yearned for in December, or be inflicted on December.

While it is May, let's enjoy what the season offers us. Let's have strawberries while they are rich and red. Let's forget them in the other opportunities of December, when December comes.

Marriage Not Failing

Pasadena Star-News.

The season of orange blossoms, and of brides is at hand again. Weddings are thick as the proverbial fat in the valleys. Each succeeding year brings its bridal processions, its sweet brides and bridesmaids and little flower girls. This ceremony never grows old or stale. It is endowed with eternal youth. The bride of today is thrilled by the beautiful rite, and the bridegroom and his best man are as much agitated as the principals to wedding ceremonies were back in the early dawn of human history. It is beautiful, and as sacred as beautiful. Which is not to say that all marital unions are sacred. But the institution of marriage, in general, is sacred.

Listen not to the pessimists and cynics who would rate marriage as a failure. This is unjust and beside the truth. Granting that there are many failures in marriage—too many—yet it must be granted that there are also many successes—a great many. Look at the bright side of this institution; contemplate the innumerable happy marriages; do not get a distorted conception of this venerable institution.

Not "American Territory"

Riverside Press.

One of the striking things about the supreme court's prohibition decision is its statement that American ships are not "American territory." The popular view has always regarded them as such, and has taken for granted that there was legal basis for the belief. The court dubs it a mere "fiction" and "figure of speech."

Strictly speaking, it appears, a vessel of American registry can only be considered "American territory" when it is within the three-mile limit. And even then, the phrase is only figurative, because it is really the three-mile belt of water-covered land that is American territory. The ship is not territory at all. American laws, it appears, do not apply there unless they are explicitly made for ships.

This is sadly disillusioning. The court has done its duty, but a certain poetic quality is gone from the sea. No longer can the homesick passenger in far waters or in an alien harbor look up to the flag flying at the masthead and say to himself, in a quiet rapture, "This is my country. Here I am at home." He has no country beyond the three-mile line.

Menace of Chain Journalism

Riverside Press.

The people should not be blinded to the menace of multiple ownership of newspapers, or what might be called chain-store journalism. This is fraught with evil to the nation, when taken into consideration with the trend to consolidation or absorption of weaker big city dailies.

It makes the independently owned newspapers of the utmost importance in maintaining sound policies for state and nation.

A democracy dependent upon sound and unbiased information of its members may look with dismay upon growing numbers of big papers falling into group ownership.

The country press and the small city dailies still reach over 60 per cent of the population of our country and its strength is in being read in the homes of the people.

Improvements Many

Pasadena Star-News.

This is an era of notable improvements in Southern California. One has only to go about among the cities and towns of this section and through the rural sections to be impressed with the great strides of progress which have been made and are being made in public and private betterments.

This great era of prosperity is broadcasting thriving among all classes. There is a diffusion of thriving that impels well for this growing, developing section. There is employment for labor, at good wages. There is extensive market for structural materials. In truth, the waves of thriving surge in and out among all classes.

Bathing in the Sun

Stockton Independent

With the spring sun growing strong again, the bathing season returns. Not the water-bathing season, but the season of sun-bathing, which is far more important. The doctors are calling attention to it, more and more, under the fancy name of "heliotherapy," which is Greek for "sun-healing."

In all outdoor bathing, it is probably the sunlight that does most good to the bather. This is particularly true on the seashore, where the light is very strong. The tendency of sea bathers to loll around on the beach is right. They have an instinct for doing the best thing, whether they know it or not. Many a case of nervous exhaustion is relieved by a few hours of exposure to the sun, on the warm sand, with perhaps an occasional plunge into the water to vary the monotony.

In Switzerland and Sweden the principle has been used in treatment without any water contact. Children suffering from tuberculosis are exposed, nearly naked, to the strong sunlight of mountains, which equals that of the seashore for purity and penetrating quality. And the cures obtained seem almost miraculous.

The sun, which smites, is nevertheless the great healer. He smites only those who fear him, or who face him too presumptuously, without due preparation. For the habitual dweller within doors, sunshine is to be taken gradually, with the exposure increased as the skin darkens.

"Tanning" is nature's protection against the peril that lies in too large doses of this potent medicine. Yet the tan itself is healthful, and evidence of healing. A tanned skin is a healthy skin, and tells of healthy organs beneath. Well may a vacationer boast of his tan, for the darker the hue, the more good the sun has done him.

The pity of it is that so many people content themselves with merely acquiring a coat of tan, by short and strenuous exposure, and do not go ahead to enjoy the full benefit of habitual sun baths when once they have become immune from sunburn.

"THE SECRETS OF SELLING"

By James Edward Hungerford.

Just what is the secret of selling?

"It's a question we'd all like to solve;

There's heaps of folks busy a-tellin'

Us how we should "grimly resolve"

To "get out an' bring in the bacon"

An' get what we're wantin' to get,

But the boys who are out order-takin'—

Don't think they have hit the mark yet!

It's easy to say, "Go an' get it!"

"The orders are waitin' right now!"

This preachin' is easy—'you bet it!

Sounds simple to get 'em—but HOW?

Just stickin' your chin out, an' vowin'

You're goin' to do this an' that,

Ain't hard—'til you get down to plowin'—

Then where are your big resolves at?

What's needed is love for your brother—

Do in' by him as you'd be done by;

It's the only sure way—there's no other—

Ain't no short-cuts—'t's useless to try;

Give him what you'd expect him to give you—

That which is an honest, square deal;

When you fail, ask the Lord to forgive you—

An' let you be honest—an' real.

Don't sell a gent what he ain't needin',

An' is afterward sorry he bought;

Just 'makin' him buy'—ain't succeedin'—

Such methods will soon come to naught;

Let him know it's the truth you are tellin';

Make him feel that you're really his friend—

An' that is the "secret of sellin'."

That will always win out in the end!

WORLD TO HOLD MOTHER'S DAY ON SUNDAY, MAY 13

To Old and Young, Beautiful Holiday Grows In Significance

AIMS ARE TOLD

Observance In Spirit and Not In Mere Ostentation Is Goal

Mother's Day letters were being written today by the wandering sons and daughters who are too far away to be able to spend Sunday, May 13, Mother's Day, at home.

Many other sons and daughters are making their secret plans to make Sunday a real Mother's Day for the mother, who despite the common use of labor-saving household appliances, seemingly always has something to do.

"Mother is going to be a lady of leisure all day Sunday," is the promise of the conspirators who consider the mere wearing of a white flower, the symbol of the day, a godding of the day's real significance.

Many there will be who celebrated Mother's Day last year with the cherished guardian of childhood days, who this year must celebrate alone. To them Sunday will bring memories.

To old and young, Mother's Day has grown in the significance of its spirit far beyond the ideals even of the founder, Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia.

But One Thing Important "There is only one thing important this day of days," said Miss Jarvis. "That is to remember mother."

"Go home and see her if you are away in another town. Take her some joy. If you can't do that, write her a special delivery letter or telegram to reach her Mother's Day."

"That is what Mother's Day"

Pilot Jailed as Felon Year After Complaint Issued

More than a year after a warrant was issued for him, A. Ehrlich, Los Angeles, was arrested yesterday on a charge of failing to render assistance after an accident. The complaint, procured here by John Rees, followed an accident near Westminster January 15, 1922, and was dated February 1, 1922.

Yesterday deputies from the sheriff's office arrested Ehrlich in Los Angeles.

He was arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox, and his preliminary hearing was set for July 10 at 2 p. m. He was released under $250 cash bail.

Report On Funds for Campaigns Is Filed at Capital

SACRAMENTO, May 11.—A committee of the state assembly, appointed nearly in the 1923 session to inquire into reports that civil service employees of the state had been requested to contribute to the campaign funds of the persons then in elective office and seeking re-election, today filed its report with the assembly. The report was brief, and contained nothing except a statement of the work done, and the general conclusions of the committee. It was stated that various hearings were had in different cities of California, and employees of many state boards and institutions were questioned. The committee decided that while many civil service employees were asked to pay, and did so, there was nothing on which to base definite charges against any official.

Motorist Fails to Recognize Emmanuel

ROME, May 11.—A private automobile had broken down on the road near Tivoli.

The driver asked the occupant of a passing car for the loan of a spare part. The occupant acceded and the driver, profusely thankful, asked the former's address for the purpose of returning the part.

Said the motoring Samaritan, smiling, as his car whirled away in a cloud of dust:

"Sorry, but I haven't a card." It was King Victor Emmanuel.

POLY SPEEDERS FACE SPECIAL PUNISHMENT

Recorder and Motorcycle Officers War on Young Traffic Violators

Any young high school gentleman who feels the urge to step on the gas—

Cut the well-known button—Leave the old cut-out open in the corporate limits—

Refuse to stop when called upon to halt his gas buggy—

Park in violation of the city ordinances—

Or otherwise run counter to the wishes of the constituted authorities of the city of Santa Ana, had better watch his conduct.

To Keep Sharp Lookout.

City Recorder W. F. Heathman and the city motorcycle officers have decided to keep a sharp lookout for such violations in the future.

High school pupils who violate traffic laws are to be punished in a special way, according to Recorder Heathman.

Speeding, cutting corners, and other violations of the city traffic laws will be punished by suspending the driver's license.

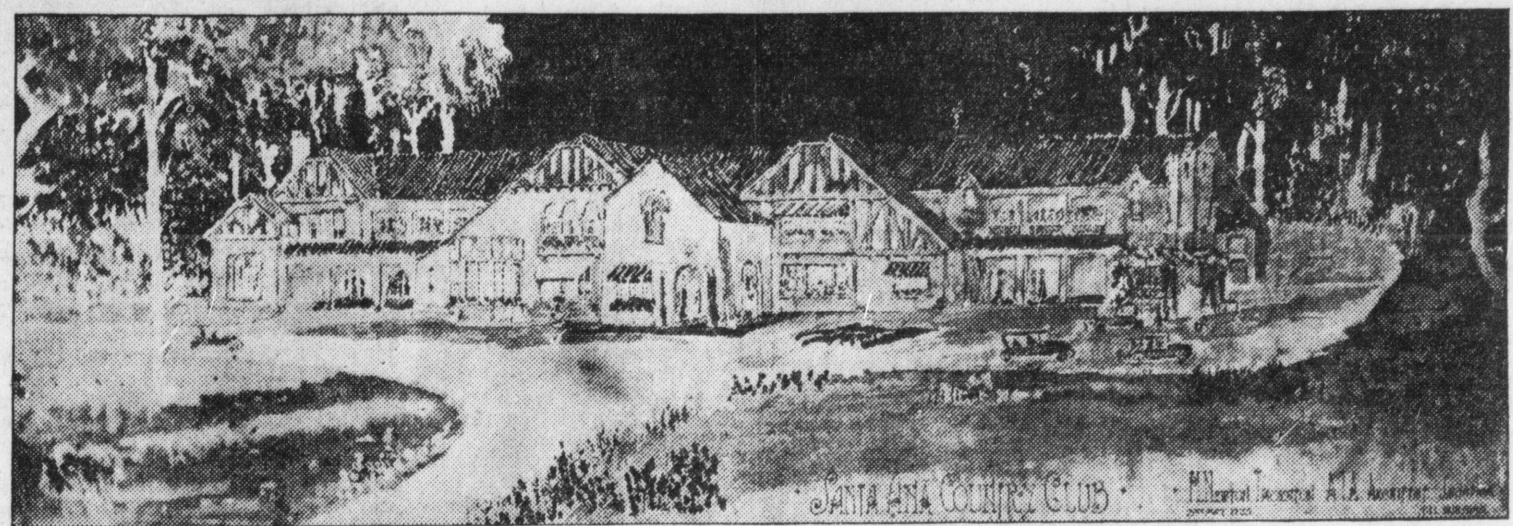

"Many young people seem to feel that they are free to do as they please when seated at the steering wheel of an automobile," said Recorder Heathman.

Violations Must Cease. "Reckless driving, violation of the laws and other practices must cease," he continued. "Any young man or woman, especially school pupils, deliberately violating the laws, will be deprived of the privilege of operating a motor car in the city of Santa Ana."

Recorder Heathman declined to say what period would be covered by the license suspensions. He intimated, however, that deliberate violations would result in suspensions of several months, perhaps longer. Motorcycle officers will keep a close watch for this class of law breakers.

GOLF BODY WILL INVEST $160,000 IN WONDER GROUNDS, PALATIAL CLUBHOUSE

Perspective of clubhouse proposed to be erected by the new Santa Ana Country Club under plans and specifications now being drawn by H. Newton Thornton, local architect. The improvement, it is estimated, will cost $160,000. The new structure is to be erected on the 140-acre site at Santa Ana Heights, recently purchased by a holding company of the club members.

YOUNG MEN ARE WORLD'S HOPE CROWD HEARS

Civilization's greatest hope lies with the young men of the world and the world's youth does not want war. Even though the countries of Europe be infested by rulers of the old order, who brought about the conditions leading up to the World War, they cannot again plunge the world into a great turmoil.

That seemed to be the outstanding thought which Tom Skehill, soldier, writer, lecturer and student of world affairs, left with the Chautauqua audience here last night in his talk on "The New Renaissance of European Civilization."

This afternoon the Winifred Windus company, introducing Guy Marriner, New Zealand pianist, and Leslie Taylor, violinist, was heard in concert-prelude. The children's Magic Lunar circus brought delight to the kiddies. Tonight Miss Windus will read the play, "Six Cylinder Love," and Miss Taylor and Mr. Marriner will again be heard.

Talk Made Vivid Skehill's talk was made especially vivid by reason of the fact that he spoke from his own observations and did not rely upon reports which might or might not be propaganda. He traced the rise and fall of civilization and predicted that the present civilization would fall if the debate were not stopped.

The young Russians dreamily tell one, he said, that they do not want bolshevism but rather than rise up against the leaders and establish a new government they will remain at home and hope "for better things." The young Turks do not want to fight the world even though Mustafa Kemal Pasha, with Talaat Pasha and Enver Pasha, was one of the ringmasters in the race for war prior to 1914; the young Fascists will not rise up and rattle the sword unless their country is invaded; the young French will not fight the young Germans in the Ruhr; the Americans will not sail out for many years in answer to a call of war; these things Skehill said.

Must Look To Youth He characterized the present leaders in Europe as of the old order and said the world could have no hope in the old men.

Policare voted for the war and helped write many of the secret treaties before the war, he said. Bonar Law is one of the old circle and of the old intriguing school of diplomats; President Ebert of Germany, with Hugo Stinnes, favored the attempt of Germany to foist her wishes upon the world; Lenin and Trotsky are ruling Russia because of the lethargic attitude of a people who do not want bolshevism, according to Skehill. Lloyd George was described as "the Welch war monger."

In one thing all Europe is alike, Skehill said, the young men are all "hoping for better things." They came back, entered the churches saw beautiful stained glass windows, heard beautiful hymns, listened to the teachings of the Christ dogmatized and perverted, but did not find their Christ of the battle field. Until the churches themselves find Him they cannot hope to attract the youth of the world, Skehill declared.

One of the pillars in the new organization is to be this re-birth of Christianity, the speaker asserted in support of his theory that other civilizations have fallen because of "biological ungodliness."

D. W. Tubbs, as chairman of the committee appointed by the Orange county council to take charge of plans for a picnic of all posts in the county at Orange county park next Sunday, urged local men to be present. The auxiliaries will also participate in the day. There will be sports in the forenoon and dancing in the afternoon. Basket lunches will be "pooled" at noon, with the committee serving hot coffee.

With George Gerwing and Miss Melvina Frye in the leading roles, the members present were entertained with a one-act drama. Others in the cast were Robert Gilbert and Wallace Adams. The skit was well received.

Women Carry Guns In India Nowadays

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—"Almost any white woman is perfectly safe in India, provided she carries a loaded automatic and is quick on the trigger in emergencies," according to Mrs. Florence Burgess Meehan, author, of Chicago and Los Angeles, who has just returned from an extended tour of the orient.

"India is so upset generally that no one knows just what may happen next," she continued. Mrs. Meehan told of one experience with robbers who entered her hotel apartments at Penang, Straits Settlement, and of how she sent them scattering by "nerve and an automatic."

Mrs. Meehan, who has traveled in the orient extensively and written much about it, was commissioned by a motion picture company to make her latest trip to obtain objects of art to give atmosphere and realism to a film about to be made.

NEWPORT BEACH INVITES VETS ON MAY 30

That the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to arrange a big program at Newport Beach for Memorial Day, became known here today, following the meeting of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, last night, when an invitation for the post to participate in the exercises there was presented.

According to Sam Meyer, secretary of the Chamber, that organization at a meeting last night appointed George T. Peabody and J. P. Greely a committee to investigate the possibility of having Admiral E. W. Eberle, of the Pacific Fleet, and two or three vessels visit the port on that day.

Every Legion post in the county has been invited to join in the beach program. The Santa Ana post last night referred the matter to a committee consisting of Commander Franklin Grouard, Adjutant Clyde Whitney and Z. B. West Jr.

Suggests Scout Troop Roland Dye, scout executive of the Boy Scouts, suggested that the post sponsor a Boy Scout troop. He pointed out that no expense is attached to the sponsoring of a troop. The Americanization committee, of which Elmer Worthy is chairman, was authorized to discuss plans with Dye and report back to the post.

Commander Grouard, Whitney and West were appointed a committee to act on suggestion of R. D. Flaherty, manager of the Orange county fair, that the post take charge of the carnival feature of the fair to be held this fall. The committee will make certain investigations and report back to the post before completing negotiations to assume responsibility for the "pique."

T. N. Nichols was appointed a committee to arrange to have some one in charge of a refreshment booth at the California Valencia show, Anaheim. The booth was tendered to the post by the show management.

Name Memorial Committee Charles D. Swanner, D. W. Tubbs and Fred Merker were appointed a committee to make arrangements for local Legionnaires attending Memorial Sunday services at one of the local churches.

Fifteen men volunteered to report at the cemetery Saturday afternoon, May 26, to clean up graves of comrades whose bodies are in the old cemetery. The graves will be decorated Memorial day, but it is not the plan of the post to have a Memorial day program.

D. W. Tubbs, as chairman of the committee appointed by the Orange county council to take charge of plans for a picnic of all posts in the county at Orange county park next Sunday, urged local men to be present. The auxiliaries will also participate in the day. There will be sports in the forenoon and dancing in the afternoon. Basket lunches will be "pooled" at noon, with the committee serving hot coffee.

With George Gerwing and Miss Melvina Frye in the leading roles, the members present were entertained with a one-act drama. Others in the cast were Robert Gilbert and Wallace Adams. The skit was well received.

ECRU POPULAR AS SHADE FOR STRAW LIDS

You'll take your life in your hand if you persist in wearing that battered old felt lid tomorrow.

Saturday's the day when the budding straw hat comes into its own. The rakish cap and the disreputable felt are slated to go into the discard at midnight. So watch your honorable step.

"Virtually all this year's hats will be in fancy braids, with fully 75 per cent running to dark tans."

Ecru shades improved. "These ecru shades, so popular last year, have been improved, and no matter how hard a man may be to please, we will have something in the way of headgear to satisfy him."

"The brims, a trifle broader than last year, will turn up a little—just enough to give a chap that natty appearance. No man need complain that he cannot look well in some of these medium width brims."

"For the man who prefers the steady old reliables, we will show the usual assortment of white straws and the Panamas, but the ecru shades will predominate."

Colors Popular "These colors are quite popular, because the hat never presents that so-burned appearance sometimes seen in the white straws."

"After many years in the business, I think I can safely say I have never seen more beautiful hats than are now on display in the Santa Ana shop windows. And the prices are quite reasonable, too. A man may pick up a mighty nice chapeau now at prices ranging from $2.50 to $5."

CIVIC CLUB PICKS OFFICERS AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, May 11.—At the meeting this week of the Garden Grove Woman's Civic club, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. E. V. Kelsey; vice president, Mrs. C. B. Henry; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. D. Hoenshel; recording secretary, Mrs. Hayhurst; treasurer, Mrs. Lewis.

All the officers were unanimously elected. All officers elected with the exception of Mrs. Hayhurst are held from the previous year.

The members of the club gave a unanimous vote of thanks to the officers for the work accomplished by them last year, also a unanimous vote of confidence in them for the work which is before them.

Miss De Puge of Bullocks gave an interesting and much appreciated talk on dress, "What to wear and how to wear it," was her subject.

The offer of the two lots in the new Chaffee subdivision was accepted and the two lots in the Ocean View tract were returned to their original owner.

The evening program that was to be held May 18 has been postponed on account of the farm bureau holding a picnic at the same date.

Time of the next meeting will be announced later.

The play, "The Rummage Sale," which the arts and crafts section of the club is giving, will be staged on Friday and Saturday night, May 11 and 12, instead of May 10 and 11, as previously announced.

The English club held their regular meeting at the high school Wednesday evening. The program consisted of readings and music. Mark Morrill gave "Dr. Jeckle and Mr. Hyde," Inis Russell, "Courage of the Commonplace," Eunice Clark, "The Tiger or the Lady," Norma Larson played several selections on the saxophone; Cynthia Kirven played an instrumental solo, and Josephine Pearson sang "If I Were a Rose."

After the program an old-fashioned spelling contest was held. Sides were chosen by Mark Morrill and Jack Dunagan. However, Mark's side proved to be the best speller.

SATURATION IS REACHED SAYS OIL BUREAU

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 11.—Oil men and others here today were interested in the following statement issued by the California state mining bureau, department of petroleum and gas:

"The continuous intensive drilling of the Huntington Beach, Long Beach and Santa Fe Springs oil fields of Southern California has brought oil production to the saturation point. Almost half a million barrels of crude oil is flowing daily from the three southern fields."

"Since frenzied town-lot development started in the early part of 1921 there has been only one way of preventing such an outcome—to curtail drilling. The complicated interests of lessors, realty holders, drilling contractors and town-lot operators seem to have made accomplishment of a concerted effort in this direction impossible. A forced reduction in drilling and production through the inexorable workings of the law of supply and demand appears to be the only remedy."

"Four reductions in the value of the crude product within a year have caused no appreciable check in drilling. Over 500 wells are now drilling in the three fields. A recent movement to restrict the output of wells will further curtail the profits derivable from each producing unit. The oversupply is being more actively maintained by intense productions of wells just completed than the rapidly declining old wells. Initial production of twelve wells recently completed at Santa Fe Springs averaged 3950 barrels per well, as compared with an average daily production of 1600 barrels per well for all producing wells in the field."

"It should be borne in mind—in this town-lot development—that an appreciable lot of drilling has been financed by people not experienced in the oil industry. They have invested in things hoped for rather than seen. Probably such drilling will continue regardless of the profit that can be realized from the product. It is estimated that $53,000,000 has been expended in drilling since these fields started. The three fields have produced approximately 90,700,000 barrels from January 1, 1921, to May 1, 1923."

"At the beginning of 1921 there were forty-three producers of petroleum in Los Angeles and Orange counties. In January, 1923, the number of producers had increased to 175."

"There has been no material change in the number of marketing concerns. Five of the large marketing companies of California are confronted with the huge task of taking care of a major portion of the production, providing transportation, storage and refining facilities for a greater additional quantity of crude oil than these same companies handled throughout the entire plant of the industry at the beginning of 1921."

"Marketers cannot receive oil or provide storage for it beyond the conservative limits of their financial resources or responsibility. The cost of building steel storage alone is 55 to 60 cents per barrel of capacity. The Santa Fe Springs oil field can fill five 55,000-barrel tanks in one day."

"Some of the factors of the present situation as affecting the public are these:

"The laws of supply and demand and the natural competition in the industry have given the public the benefit of exceptionally low prices of gasoline. Gasoline in California is now retailing for the lowest price it has reached in seven years. But the factor that is forcing a reduction in the price of gasoline, namely, overproduction of refinable crudes, is drawing in a wasteful way on reserves of crude oil and natural gas which properly should be conserved for the future. The necessity of giving the maximum accommodation in transportation, storage and refinery facilities for the refinable crudes of Southern California has forced a marked curtailment in production and transportation of low-grade crudes in other fields, the principal source of California's fuel oil."

"Daddy" L. H. Hill is back on the job after a tussle with the "feds." You'll find him at the California Market, Fourth and French streets, with a full line of fine bakery goods.

CAMPAIGN FOR COUNTRY CLUB MEMBERSHIPS WILL BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Drive Committee Chairman Points Out Advantages to Be Derived

With work starting today on the fairways and plans being drawn by H. Newton Thornton, architect here, for the clubhouse, Guy Gilbert, chairman of the membership committee of the new Santa Ana Country club, was making preparations for beginning an active campaign next week for membership in the new club.

Approximately twenty-five members of the Orange County Country club, which the new club is to succeed, have signified their intention to become identified with the Santa Ana club.

According to Gilbert, there are 306 members in the old club. Coincident with solicitation of these for continuance of their membership Gilbert and members of his committee will interview men who are not members in an effort to induce their co-operation in the plan to provide for this city and vicinity a golf course and clubhouse of the very highest type.

Gilbert pointed out that members in the new club will continue to have the benefit of the old ground course and conveniences until such time as the new are ready, with dues only $3 a month.

Membership Cost $400. Membership in the new club will be $400, with dues probably established at $7.50 a month. Two hundred of the membership are to be sold on payment plan, $100 down, $100 the first of January, 1924, and the rest in $100 payments each six months thereafter. In the opinion of some members of the new club, the memberships will double in value within a year or two, as each membership will carry a direct one-fourth interest in the 140-acre tract and buildings. The membership is limited to 400.

When the new plant is completed it will represent an investment of approximately $160,000. It is the ambition of the officers to have the organization free of debt in a very short time.

The buildings, as shown in the architect's perspective, follow English half-timber design, presenting a beautiful balance, yet broken up to an extent without repetition to give it the appearance of a palatial residence in England.

Interior Luxurious. According to Thornton, the interior arrangements are to be the last thing in modern conceptions of club life, and will include spacious lounge rooms for men and women, dining rooms, card rooms, etc. Special attention has been given to the social requirements of the club, it is expected that the clubhouse will be the center of social activity of the wives of members. There will be a large ball room, leading direct to large verandas and cloisters.

The building will face on Newport Beach boulevard. The main entrance to the spacious grounds will be on the boulevard. The clubhouse and grounds will be five miles nearer Santa Ana than the old plant.

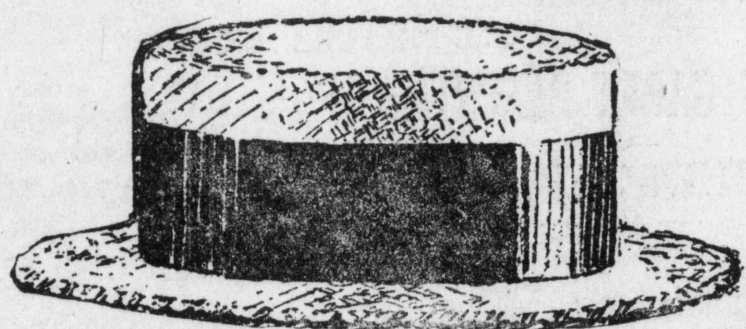

There will be a large court, with cloister arrangement facing fountains and lily ponds. Immediately joining the court will be located two tennis courts. The building is so arranged that all the spacious departments open up freely in their entirety toward the golf course and will present a very pleasing aspect.

To Plant Foliage. Gilbert said that arrangements will be made to plant all the necessary foliage to follow out the inspirations of the architect, producing one of the most picturesque clubhouses and grounds in Southern California.

Other members of the membership committee which is preparing for the drive are A. S. Ralph, J. L. Wheeler, H. B. Van Dien and J. E. Preston.

The officers and board of directors of the new club are C. G. Twist, president; E. S. Gilbert, vice president; George Shattuck, secretary; Edward McWilliams, treasurer; W. A. Huff, F. L. Purinton, John L. Wheeler, E. T. Mateer and Clyde Whitney.

ODD CHARACTER SAILED. SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Cruce Robinson, instead of Robinson Cruce, appeared in court here, with Friday—the latter being a pup this time. Cruce was leading the same old vagrant life. He had been picked up by police near the Palace of Fine Arts. He wore clothes guaranteed to have been in the good old days of Alex Selkirk—if not earlier. Cruce was dismissed with advice to get a job and quit trying the desert isle stuff in civilization.

HOME REMEDIES OF OUR ANCESTORS

Almost every man and woman in America can remember the botanical recipes of our mothers and grandmothers for the treatment of disease, and they were wonderfully dependable. Every fall there were stored away in the attic thoroughwort, pennyroyal, catnip, sage, wormwood, rue, and other herbs for the family during the winter months that followed. In 1872, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first prepared from one of these botanical recipes, and the demand for it has increased to such an extent that hundreds of tons of roots and herbs are now used annually in its preparation. It has recently been proved that 98 out of every 100 women who try it have been benefited by its use, which is a marvelous record for any medicine to hold.

Observance of Mother's Day has spread from America to all parts of Europe and to Japan, China, Africa and Palestine—back to the very cradle of the holy spirit of motherhood.

Observe Mother's Day in spirit, not in mere ostentation.

That is the plea being made by the Mother's Day International association as the whole world prepares to celebrate the beautiful new international holiday.

Doing something for mother's joy, is the object.

Churches Plan Services

Here in Santa Ana, situated as it is in the garden spot of the world, mother need only fear a perfect avalanche of flowers, a veritable rain of blossoms.

Special services in the churches will take cognizance of Mother's Day.

Mother, to her great unselfish surprise, will find herself in the front seat of the automobile during the Sunday ride. She usually insists that she is quite comfortable in the rear seat, where her hair is blown in wavy streamers by the laughing wind. But this coming Sunday her protests will be of no avail.

"Front seat, mother, and watch out that father does not run past any speed cops."

"Pshaw!" exclaims the practical pessimist. "Why all this fuss on one day in the year? Why not spread a little of it over every day in the year?"

Whereas a glint appears in the eye of every mother.

"My children think of their mother every day."

And that's why it's Mother's Day.

DEMAND MORE PAY

PARIS, May 9.—The employees of the department stores of Paris are today making loud demands for more pay. They say the cost of living has advanced three-fold since 1919. Their main complaint is in the matter of food, and the Government has intervened by trying to regulate the price of bread. The department stores had a lesson not long ago when they advanced the price of clothing. French women simply did not buy dresses when prices soared beyond their reach. The store proprietors began to lose money, and thus were compelled to scale down their prices. But it is easier for the people to dispense with new clothes than with food, so the violent protests of today against the cost of sustenance are not surprising.

The oil at Mosul is quite worthless there. To have any value it must be moved to the seacoast. There are three directions this movement can take—to the Black Sea, to the Mediterranean or to the Persian Gulf. The route to the Black Sea would be through mountain ranges, making the cost prohibitive. The Persian Gulf or the Mediterranean route must be chosen. Each is about 400 miles from Mosul. A pipe line for carrying the oil would have to be constructed, which would cost about $30,000,000.

Require Heavy Subsidy

It is estimated that two million tons of oil per year would have to be sent through the pipe line to make it pay. In addition, large expense would be involved in defending the pipe line against the attacks of nomads. Nothing would be easier than to break the pipe line by predatory tribes. These people would have to be subsidized, as properly the cheapest way of keeping the flow of oil interrupted. The subsidy might cost another quarter of a million tons of oil yearly.

The amount of oil that flows through a pipe line is limited by the size of the pipe, the grading and the pumping power. A million and a half tons per year is a very good flow. The Mosul line would have to carry much more than that, which would make the risk to capital more precarious. Oil companies do not like to put all their ventures into a single area. Nor does any government, guided by common sense principles of international commerce, wish to see its nationals take the grave risk of losing sums in pioneer development.

Neither Great Britain nor America is justified by common business sense, in going into the Mosul oil fields on exclusive contracts. The dangers are too great. After the pipe line had been completed, the price of oil might drop to such a level as to make the venture unprofitable for many years.

Joint Enterprise

The proper procedure would be for the largest oil groups in the world, numbering some ten or twelve, to join together and develop the Mosul wells for the general benefit of all nations. American, British, Dutch and French companies could co-operate in this way to their mutual protection. It would be useless to ask German interests to join, because the Germans have no money for such purposes at present.

This scheme would be satisfactory to the American and British governments, in all probability. But, it cannot become operative until the actual ownership of Mosul is determined. Turkey claims proprietorship, while the new kingdom of Iraq, in which Great Britain has mandate rights, also asserts its sovereignty.

An international boundary tribunal eventually will settle the question. After that the time will come to start the international exploitation of Mosul oil by a combined group of European and American financiers.

Chicago to Honor French Explorers

CHICAGO, May 9.—Chicago is this year celebrating the 250th anniversary of the visit of Louis Joliet and Father Marquette, noted French explorers, to what is now the site of the city.

The anniversary observance will culminate August 15, when statues of the two famous adventurers and one of the Indian chief Chicagouan will be unveiled on the grounds of Harrison Technical high school.

A historical collection of relics of the party has been arranged by the Chicago Historical society. Many documents in the handwriting of Father Marquette and Joliet are included in the exhibit.

PEDDLERS MAKE REAL "MONEY" FROM MARKS

NEW YORK, May 9.—Money is changing hands at five times its real value in New York.

Profiteering and usury?

Not at all. Just the street peddlers who swarm about the streets in lower Manhattan earning an honest living.

A thousand marks for 20 cents, they cry to the lunch-time crowds. "Real German money, a thousand marks for 20 cents."

It sounds cheap until one stops to think that the current quotations for marks make them worth about 25,000 to the dollar or at the rate of 5000 for 20 cents. Still the peddlers sell them at five times their real worth. Possibly the buyers think they are making a real investment that will pay several thousand per cent dividends in time to come when the mark gets back to its pre-war value of about 25 cents.

Half Billion Spent

Since the war millions of good American dollars have gone into marks which the German printing presses have worked day and night turning out. There is no way of telling exactly how much has been spent in this way, but financial authorities estimate that a half billion dollars probably would not cover it all. Most of the marks were bought two or three years ago by persons who thought they were making a real investment.

When the mark was worth about 2 cents, many Americans figured it would go no lower. There was a veritable rush to buy marks, which was shrewdly encouraged by the German government, which sold its paper money for good American gold. But the mark did go lower and now buying of them for investment purposes has ceased, so far as any large expenditure of money is concerned.

The mark might go even lower and follow the Austrian crown into oblivion if it were allowed to run its natural course. But the German government operating through the Reichsbank has "pegged" it. By that is meant that the bank supports the quotation when it threatens to fall below a certain figure. To do this requires expenditure of foreign money and securities and it is a question of how long the procedure can be kept up.

British Pound

Contrasted with the mark, which is the furthest from its par value of any quoted foreign money unit, is the British pound sterling which is nearest par value. The par value of the pound is $4.86 and a fraction cents. It is now around 20 cents below par and the best opinion in the financial district is that it will close that 20 cents gap before the end of 1923. At one time the pound was worth only a little more than $3. The gain it has made measures to the last inch the progress that Great Britain has made toward recovery from the war. Balancing of her budget, willingness to pay her debts, governmental economy and a moderate policy toward the conquered nations have all helped to solidify the confidence of the world in the stability of British currency.

Investors and speculators in this country have a real interest in seeing the pound get back to par for that means the reopening of the international security markets and a consequent widening of the market for American securities. A wider market means that the price of these securities will rise. Before the war, it is estimated British investors held some $5,000,000,000 in American securities which were liquidated during the war. The buying back of these securities already has begun. It will increase as the pound comes nearer its normal value.

SOVIETISM NOT SUCCESSFUL IS CLAIM

MOSCOW, May 10.—"Has the Communistic experiment in Russia been a success or a failure?"

This question is perhaps the leading one asked both inside and outside Russia. Many outside persons answer "failure" without hesitation.

I have asked the question to dozens of leading communists and to hundreds of workmen.

The answer, given in detail by communistic thinkers and workers alike, may be summed up as this: "There is not a communist in Russia who believes that there has been a communistic experiment in Russia."

This statement is explained as follows: There existed in Russia during a certain period a so-called war—communism, in the sense of a centralism. It was a relative centralism with regards to consumption, but not with regard to production. This was impossible because all attention was then concentrated in the liquidation of the civil war and the foreign interventions. In other words, there was rationing but no control of production.

In the year 1917 and 1918 the Bolsheviks believed that Marx's prophecy (the world revolution) was near its fulfillment. No other outcome was expected of the World War.

"When, however, through concessions made the workmen by the capitalistic countries and assisted by the compromising policy of the social democracy of all countries, the outbreak of the world revolution was postponed," as one leading communist termed it, the Bolsheviks changed their tactics towards the outside world, and, consequently, also internally.

"The world revolution will not come from the civilized West, but from the enslaved, awakening East," Lenin declared in a recent article.

Theoretically explained, the New Economic Policy of Russia is not an evolution of Bolshevism, but merely a tactical move. The final goal is still "Communism or Socialism."

CLEVELAND TO TRY MANAGER FOR CITY

CLEVELAND, O., May 9.—Cleveland, largest city in Ohio, and fifth in population among American municipalities, next January goes under a new form of government, including a city council of 25 members, elected by proportional representation, and a city manager. The charter changes voted by the people in November, 1921, have declared valid by the state supreme court.

Election by proportional representation is a new thing so far as voters here are concerned, and proponents of the charter changes as well as the county board of election have established schools to tell the voter how to make his vote count. Chief Clerk A. J. Hirsutius, of the board of elections, has announced that the counting of the ballots will be a herculean task and has asked the mayor for the use of the public hall—the largest auditorium in the United States—for the army of clerks who will be employed in making the count.

The city will have no mayor after next January, a city manager, chosen by the council, performing executive and administrative functions. Mayor Fred Kohler, while denying he has any aspirations beyond completion of his present term, is generally believed to harbor managerial ambitions. The fact that during his first year in office he turned in an operating deficit of approximately $1,000,000 into a surplus of $250,000, will be used by his friends as a strong argument that he should be entrusted with the new job.

The city manager, subject to council approval, will choose all department heads.

CONFIRMED FOLLOWERS OF THE PHOTOPLAY WILL FIND MUCH TO INTEREST THEM IN THE ENGAGEMENT OF CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN "ROMANCE AND ARABELLA," WHICH OPENS TONIGHT AT THE WEST END THEATER.

The picture is one made some time ago which has been revived by the Selznick Pictures corporation because of insistent popular demand.

It will be recalled that shortly after Norma Talmadge was introduced under the direction of Joseph M. Schenck, Lewis J. Selznick arranged a series of productions starring Constance Talmadge, Norma's younger sister. The immediate success of the younger girl soon became the talk of the motion picture industry and, in an incredibly short time, Constance and Norma were sharing honors.

By careful design Miss Constance Talmadge was given a series of stories admirably adapted to her particular style and in no way clashing with the work of her sister.

KIN OF HARRIET STOWE IN WEST END FILM
"Sunshine Harbor," the added film attraction at the West End, adds further glory to the famous name of Beecher, for its star is Margaret Beecher, grandniece of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who wrote "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and grand-daughter of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, the anti-slave preacher of Civil War days.

"Sunshine Harbor" is not a sea story, but the adventure and romance of a Southern society belle who fled from her luxurious home on the eve of a loveless marriage and went North to make a name and fame for herself as a writer.

Of course, she runs away from one romance only to run into another, and as a newspaper reporter she has adventures, and finally an accident that brings about a dramatic reconciliation with her father.

"MONTA CRISTO" SCENES TAKEN AT BALBOA

What is obviously the most picturesque "location" set thus far built for motion pictures is a French fishing village constructed at Balboa, Cal. It was used in several of the important scenes in the picture "Monte Cristo" now showing at the Temple theater.

Books in the office of Richard E. Sibley, chief art and technical director for the Fox west coast studios, Hollywood, show the initial cost to have been $30,000. The entire set was left to the citizens of Balboa at their request.

There are two streets in the village, one of them fronting on the ocean, and each reflects the picturesque architecture of the simple fisher folk of the Napoleonic period. The homes, taverns, stores, and shipping offices, are faithful reproductions of the water front of Marseilles, France, as copied from old prints and etchings in the possession of New York and New Orleans French historical societies loaned to Sibley and Flynn, the director.

Even the rude and uneven cobblestone paving of that period is faithfully reproduced. To get the desired result and to show Marcellus as it was when Edmund Dantes, later in the good ship Pharaon, it was even necessary to build cofferdams and cribs to construct the sea wall so vividly described by Dumas in his wonderful narrative.

STATE TO HAVE OWN SECRET SERVICE

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 11.—Oklahoma has started something new in the line of state law enforcement with its newly organized "secret service."

The "service" is a forerunner of an extensive state police force and is the brain child of Governor Jack Walton, elected on a platform including promises of strict law enforcement.

The "service" has a personnel of 200 men, most of whom have records of being picturesquely Oklahoma gunmen, but whose identities are kept secret.

The "service" has been dubbed "Sooner State Secret Service" and in time will rival the neighboring Texas Rangers for activity in the game of law enforcement, according to expectations of Governor Walton.

Force of the Service has already been directed at bands of automobile thieves operating throughout the state, with scores of arrests. Results have also been obtained in preliminary drives against bootleggers and moonshiners, according to word at the capitol.

Governor Walton planned the Service along lines similar to those of the Federal Secret Service, with the premier object of campaigning against bootleggers and moonshiners, it was said. The scope of this campaign will be broadened later to take in action against bank bandits and robber bands and others defying the laws of the state.

During the first few weeks of his administration, the governor laid plans for establishment of a state mounted police force. These plans were abandoned, however, when the legislature failed to enact his plans. The legislature allowed organization of the secret service through an appropriation of $50,000 a year for "extraordinary protection of the state."

In the campaign against violators of the state and federal prohibition laws, probability of establishing an airplane squadron for the "service" has been seriously considered, it was admitted at the capitol. This probability will see development in the coming few weeks.

The airplane squadron will act as the "eye" of the service.

Radio Helps Home Hold Young Folks 'Y' Worker Claims

NEW YORK, May 11.—Radio is one modern innovation that is keeping the family circle intact, Miss Marion Gary, general secretary of the Vermont council of the Y. W. C. A. here, stated today. The tendency of the average modern innovation is to take the young people from the fireside, she said.

"On Sunday afternoon in one rural home I know there is standing room only," says Miss Gary. "I believe the radio is helping to bring the home back as a center. Heretofore everything has drawn interests outside the home."

ESCAPED CONVICT HAPPY TO RETURN

SACRAMENTO, Calif., May 11.—Sixteen years Charles Burnell, 57, had served in Folsom prison, of a life sentence for murder. Years he had passed in his cell peering through the bars, and then good behavior gave him the position of trusty for still more years.

Recently with the coming of spring, came spring fever to Burnell. Romance, the urge to go somewhere, to do something different, became all-impelling. Burnell fled.

The morning of the next day he was captured. And he said he was glad. Freedom again meant nothing to him. He had been nervous all night and morning, his ease gone. He welcomed the return to prison.

SANTA ROSA PLANS BURBANK FESTIVAL

SANTA ROSA, Calif., May 11.—A pageant of unusual beauty and a carnival that excels anything of the kind attempted before in the state is planned here May 17, 18, 19, and 20, when the Luther Burbank golden jubilee will be held. Sonoma county will join in the festival and is taking great interest in the events planned. Citizens have subscribed $25,000 to pay the costs of a rose carnival, parade and night pageant. Mrs. Luther Burbank will appear in the pageant in the principal role of Rosa, for whom the city was named, and who is said to have been the first Indian converted to "Christianity" in the state.

Churches Need To Keep Up to Date Is Pastor's Word

DENVER, Colo., May 11.—Failure of the church to keep abreast of the times is the cause of people turning away from religion, according to the Rev. W. S. Rudolph, pastor of the Union Congregational church here.

But, on the other hand, these same people, by adopting the "live and let live" slogan of the modern business world, are taking up the principles of Christianity to a larger degree than ever before in their daily life.

Churches, Rev. Rudolph said, to meet the situation, must forget the petty differences of creed and unite on the beliefs they have in common.

Sunday blue laws are intolerant and are not adapted to our varied population, the pastor believes. Sunday, he said, is no more sacred than any other day and the "movies are no worse on the Lord's day than on any other. Sundays gives the privilege of fellowship with God—the duty."

DIVORCE CASE SETTLED. SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The old mother-in-law joke came back with a bang here when Joseph Marosky and his wife appeared in divorce court. Mrs. Marosky said Joe wanted to go to baseball games every Sunday. Joe said the wife wanted him to visit his mother-in-law every Sunday. They compromised and settled the case. Joe is to visit the mother twice a month and do what he pleases the other two Sundays.

TOURIST TOTAL IS ESTIMATED AT 100,000

One hundred thousand more people will visit Southern California during the summer of 1923 than came during the summer of 1922 is the prediction of C. G. Milham, executive secretary of the All-Year Club of Southern California in an article recently published in "Western Advertising."

Mr. Milham's estimate in the light of comparative results from the advertising of this organization is conservative. During the entire year of 1922 a few more than 15,000 people wrote to the All-Year Club for information relative to Southern California in the summer.

With the 1923 advertising campaign scarcely more than half completed, more than 14,000 people have already written for information. Since the careful survey at the end of last summer indicated that 100,000 more people visited Southern California in 1922 than came in 1921, it will be seen that a similar or greater increase may be expected during the coming summer.

The figures for last summer's increase are based on three factors, the numbers of direct inquiries received, the records of railroad travel and the records of the hotels throughout Southern California.

Every man, which was received as a result of the All-Year Club's advertisement was turned over to transcontinental railroads which sent eastern representatives to call on the people who had manifested an interest in this section.

The railroad representatives at the end of the season made the statement that eight out of every ten people who inquired were actually coming to California. Mr. Milham continues, "They also found that an average of three to four people were represented by every name."

The largest number of people, however, who were interested in the advertising did not write for information. They called the railroad representative in their city as the advertising urged them to do. Thus they came into direct contact with an aggressive Southern California sales force.

Relative to the actual records of railroad traffic, Mr. Milham says, "It is a normally good year. California-bound passenger business was approximately 400,000 persons a year, on a certain railroad. In 1919, this railroad brought to the Golden State about 440,000 persons; in 1920, the banner year, 472,000; in 1921, 344,000; in 1922, 368,000. It will be noted that the year 1922 was better than 1921 by 24,000. This was in spite of the fact that for the first five months of 1922 the California-bound passenger business of this one road was 23,000 less than for the corresponding period of 1921. In other words, there was an accumulated deficit of 23,000 on June 1st, 1922, over the same period of 1921, yet for the full year, 1922, beat out 1921 by 24,000. Though the All-Year Club advertising a big deficit was changed into a substantial gain."

"The increase was essentially an increased business for the four summer months of 1922, an abnormally good year, show that 159,665 persons were brought to California on this one road, while the four summer months of 1921, which started off as the worst year on record, showed that 162,671 persons were brought to the Golden State on this one road, an increase of approximately 3,000 over what, as said above, was an abnormally good year, although not the 'banner' year."

"The percentages of gain of the railroads are given by Mr. Milham, as follows: 'One railroad reported in the fall that it had sold 91,627 more summer tourist tickets to California in 1922 than in 1921. It gave credit for the increase of 73.4 per cent to the All-Year Club of Southern California. Other railroads reported increases of 35 and 40 per cent. Hotels in various sections of Southern California reported increased business of from 15 to 70 per cent. Several nationally-known resort hotels stated that they had enjoyed the best summer business in their history.'

Inasmuch as it is a well recognized fact that a large percentage of the new residents of Southern California come first as visitors, it may be seen how actively the work of the All-Year Club in bringing visitors is also recruiting new population for this section.

The early history and underlying purposes of the All-Year Club are also told by Mr. Milham. He says, "The club is essentially a Southern California organization, functioning on behalf of every section and community in the Southland, and yet at the same time, it is doing a notable work for all California, and indeed for the entire Pacific Coast."

"Moreover its direct influence has extended into the neighboring states, and particularly into the states of the southwest which adjoining California. California has broadness of vision on the part of those directing the policy of the All-Year Club, recognizing especially that it is virtually as important to Southern California to build up the territory surrounding it as it is to build up this one section, perhaps best explains why the All-Year Club influence has extended over so large a section."

"Essentially the club believes that while it woees its first duty to Southern California, there should be nothing in that duty which would fail to take cognizance of the wonderful country that characterizes the entire Pacific coast and the southwest."

Relative to the needs which induced the formation of the All-Year Club, Mr. Milham says, "The club had its origin in the belief of many leaders of thought in Southern California, that the Southland was not 'Cashing in'

as it might on the equability of its climate throughout the year.

"There were comparatively few persons in the country who knew that in most sections of Southern California, it was cool in summer and mild and balmy in winter. Most people—it has been estimated by some that at least 90 per cent of the population of the United States—had thought that because Southern California possessed a delightful winter climate, was internationally known as a winter resort, it must necessarily follow that its summers were hot, and Southern California, therefore, a place to be avoided during the summer months."

"Indeed, students of the situation said that the Southland not only was failing to 'cash in' on its delightful all-year climate, but development was actually being impeded because the mistake thought regarding the summer kept visitors away during those months, kept investors away, kept industry away."

"There was, then, some recognition of the foregoing. There were companion details of the main thought—that immense investment was tied up for many months in the year, with large overhead expenses, when it should have been receiving dividends; that millions of dollars of new money would flow into Southern California if the facts regarding its climate throughout the year were known; that there would be no seasonal slowing down of business and related activities in the Southland if the attractiveness of its summer months were properly set forth."

As a result of the recognition of these facts, prominent men in Southern California met several times to discuss conditions during the spring of 1921. Out of these meetings the All-Year Club was born. Immediately a campaign was set in motion to raise the necessary funds for advertising. Fifty thousand dollars were raised by the first of July, 1921 and by the middle of the same month, advertising began to appear in the newspapers of the Middle West. Mr. Milham continues, "Its results were felt in a remarkably short time. Where just a short time before the advertisements appeared, there had been a sharply noticeable lack of visitors in Southern California—it was at the period when the copper, cotton and cattle situations were at their worst, so that the usual visitors from Arizona, Utah, New Mexico and Western Texas were practically nil—now, shortly after the advertisements came out, the visitors were noticeable in numbers."

"Furthermore the railroads found that they were suddenly increasing their passenger business to California's Southland by actual leaps and bounds. The railroad figures did not begin to approximate what they had in the summer of 1920, nor that of the preceding year, but when reports of the period affected by the All-Year Club's advertising were read, the figures made clear that a remarkable stimulation had been given to incoming California travel."

"This first advertising effort of the Club was, in effect, a 'show me' campaign. It was intended to demonstrate that the idea back of the All-Year Club was sound—that through advertising effort people actually could be induced to visit Southern California. The case was proved so well that increased financial support was promptly forthcoming, and in the winter of 1921-1922,

Cut In Surtaxes

When congress convenes next December, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon will renew his recommendation that the surtax rates on income be further reduced. In the revenue act of 1921 the maximum rates were lowered to 50 per cent, with corresponding reductions in the lower schedules. The effect of the change did not become apparent until the tax returns of this year were made. The payments for the first quarter of the year, due March 15, were more than $70,000,000 greater than had been anticipated. Most of the increase is ascribed by Secretary Mellon to the cut in the surtaxes, which encouraged the investment of capital in productive enterprise rather than in tax-free securities, thereby increasing profits subject to tax and increasing the aggregate receipts of the treasury.

"The high rates sound productive," Secretary Mellon comments, "but the fact remains that year by year they are becoming increasingly effective and are actually operating to reduce rather than increase the government's revenue." Further reductions are relied upon to stimulate business still more, with resultant profit to the treasury. Mr. Mellon recommends a maximum surtax of 25 per cent, which with the normal tax would bring the total to 32 per cent. He also will ask legislation that will close some of the avenues of escape from surtaxes that are now taken advantage of. One of these is the tax exemption of municipal bonds, which would be prevented in future issues if the constitutional amendment recommended by the president and Secretary Mellon is adopted.

Savor of Salt

Oh, the breeze blows salt from the ocean reaches Where the graybacks roll and the gray gulls screech,
And it's I would sail the salt seas over,
A deep-sea salt and an ocean rover.
It's I would hear the taut stays singing
And watch the stars, from the fore-top swinging,
With salt spray flying, the salt wind shrieking,
The white wake boiling, the steel plates creaking.

Where shall we go for our honey-mooning?
Not where the soft land-breeze is crooning,
But out at sea, out at sea together,
Salt sea-rovers in the salt sea weather.
For it's you that know how the great deep calls you
And that have no fear of what fate befalls you,
So we'll walk the decks where the salt spume hisses,
With the smack of salt in our care-free kisses.

INSURANCE
Life insurance companies did a bigger business in March than in any month of the past, 209,000 taking out new policies for amounts totaling over half a billion dollars. This epidemic of betting that we'll die before the insurance companies think we will, shows common sense and thrift, as well as widespread fear of death and its responsibilities.

Time to Smile

THEN FIRING CEASED.
Once Uncle Joe Cannon visited the school at a town where he was to speak, and was entertained by an exhibition of amateur oratory. While the selection, "The Battle of Waterloo," was being given, "Uncle Joe" gave a violent sneeze just as the young speaker reached the end of the first paragraph.
"But hush! hark!" declaimed the boy. "A deep sound strikes the rising knell! Did you hear it?"
The visitors smiled and a moment later came a second sneeze with increased violence.
"But hark!" shouted the youngster, "The sound breaks in once more. And nearer, clearer, deadlier than before! Arm! Arm! It is the cannon's opening roar!"
That was too much and the audience broke into laughter.
"Uncle Joe" chuckled: "Put up your weapons, children; I won't shoot any more."—The Argonaut.

A PARABLE THAT PAID.
At the little church the minister, a colored man, announced he regretted to state that a certain brother had retired to rest the night before without locking the door of his chicken house, and on rising in the morning found that all his chickens had disappeared.
"I don't want to be personal," he added, "but I have my suspicions as to who stole dem chickens. I shall be glad if the man who took dem will not put any money in the box when it is passed around, and then I shall know if those suspicions are right or not."
The collection was taken up. The boxes were crammed full of money.
"Now, brethren," announced the minister, "I don't want your dinners spoiled by wonderin' where dat brudder lives who don't lock his chickens up at night. Dat brudder don't exist, mah friends; he was a parable for the purpose of finance."

NO VIOLATION OF LAW.
The game warden saw a man fishing on the bank of a protected stream.
"Get away from there, or I'll run you in! Don't you know that water is protected?"
The stranger did not remove his line, but called back over his shoulder:
"What sort of fish are you protecting, warden?"
"Trout!"
"Ah, ha! Then everything's all right. I'm fishing for pickerel. Good-bye warden!"

THE LATER THE BETTER.
"Call on Mrs. Canberra Villa? My dear! Why, her husband goes to town by the 7:55!"
"That's where you're mistaken. He goes by the 8:30 now, and next year he'll be going by the 9:15, my husband says—and then we'll simply have to call on her."—Sydney Bulletin.

Radio "Fading"

Scientists who are specializing in radio are devoting a great part of their attention to the phenomenon called "fading."
This is a form of interference to the reception of radio messages that comes from the interception of certain physical causes. Such, for example, as mountains, tall buildings and open "pockets" in the atmosphere.

These obstructions to the transmission of radio waves cause shadows in the area of which it has been difficult, and in many cases practically impossible, to hear a distinct station. For example, some areas along the Atlantic coast are within radio shadows, where listeners have found it hard to hear certain stations distant from them. At one spot, the fans may hear stations within the area and others to the south and west, but stations to the north are almost totally out of range.

It is the causes and cures for these conditions that radio scientists are searching. They have set up experimental stations in these shadows and have been collecting valuable information concerning the phenomenon of fading.

In the course of their experimentation, these searchers have come across a curious form of fading caused, they believe, by the sunrise and sunset.
Marconi, in trying to send his signals across the Atlantic, found an obstruction when it happened to be light in London and still dark in New York. He noticed a depression in the intensity of his signals and he ascribed this to the interference of the sunrise line in the ocean. As soon as the sun rose in New York, however, the signals picked up.

The same difficulty occurred when it got dark in London and was still light in New York. As soon as the sun set in New York, his signals increased in intensity.
This interference is not experienced to any noticeable extent by the powerful long-wave radio stations along the coast, but they are felt by the short-wave stations. The regular broadcasting stations of the country come within this scope.

Movie Spokes

In motion pictures the wheels of automobiles and other vehicles sometimes appear to be turning backward, the effect being caused when the camera just catches the second spoke in the position that the first would have reached in going the wrong way. The appearance of the spokes being similar, the backward effect is pronounced.

JULIET
Shakespeare had been dead 46 years before a woman played the part of Juliet. She was Miss Sanderson. Her first appearance was at Lincoln's Field Inn, London, in 1862. Previously the role was acted by men, following the old custom of those days when actors had low social standing, and women were not approved as actresses.
The Chinese still have a similar notion, explaining that they hold their women in too high esteem to let them display their charms before an audience for profit.

Let CENTRIFUGAL FORCE make washday easy!

The Laun-Dry-Ette has no wringer. It dries the clothes by centrifugal force.

This feature of the Laun-Dry-Ette makes it the greatest labor-saving electrical washing machine on the market.

You have no wringer to feed. The Laun-Dry-Ette washes the clothes quickly and thoroughly—then whirles the suds out; it rinses the clothes, then whirles out the rinse water; it blues them—then whirles them dry for the line.

Drying by centrifugal force enables you to do your entire washing without extra tubs. It makes it impossible to injure buttons or fasteners. It keeps your hands soft and white, because you never have to put them in the water.

Let centrifugal force make washday easy. We shall be glad to give you a demonstration. Please phone, write or call today.

Things We Have Always Known

The recent business condition has brought to the forefront of thought many fundamental considerations much like human nature in the individual that have always been known but have been damned with faint praise.

Human nature in the mass is very much like human nature in the individual. One of its dominant characteristics has been summed up in the observation, "You never miss the water till the well runs dry." We never appreciate fundamental things until we have occasion to do without them.

This observation has a special application to the Demand of the public for the products of industry. While the Demand was at high tide and everybody was busy trying to supply that Demand at a profit no one, seemingly, gave a thought to where the Demand came from, how long it might last, or what would happen if it should fail. We merely assumed the permanent existence of the Demand, just as we assume the presence of water, air, and fire.

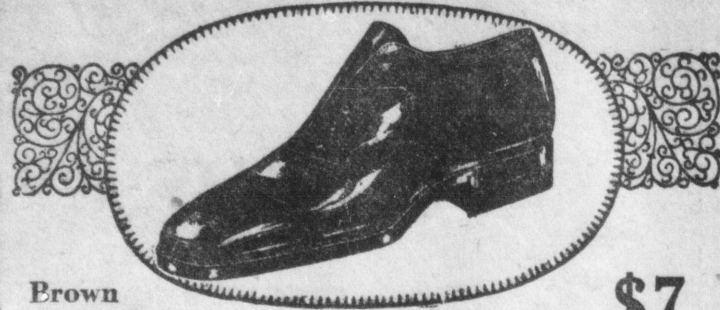

But a day came when Demand began to subside, and in many industries it came almost to a full stop. And then we missed it, and realized, as never before, what an important thing it was. And we began to inquire where it came from in the first place, and how it might be restored.

We always knew—everybody knew—that Desire for things made a Demand for them in the market. That people desired things we accepted as an elemental fact. But when we discovered that Desire fluctuated we began to appreciate that Desire, as we know it, is a thing created by the art of man. It is a highly specialized form of an elemental need—just as a Louis XVI chair is made out of a tree.

This discovery led to another equally important discovery that the means of refining and specializing that Desire was Advertising. The gigantic work that has been accomplished by modern advertising now stands out in bold relief. It has been the means by which the refinements of civilization have been made known and made desirable, and this desire has been made into Demand. It is a simple fact that a million profitable forms of industrial activity owe their very existence to the fact that Advertising upheld the standards of living which in turn provided the demand for their products.

Fruit Is Selling Generally Lower; Lemon Prices Advance

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Imperial valley apricots were general selling lower, with prices ranging from 10 to 15 cents per pound. Shippers have advanced their prices on lemons to $5.50 per box at loading points and local dealers are now asking $5.50 to $6 per box for them.

Holdings of apples in local cold storages are now reported at 83,366 boxes, a reduction of 28,792 boxes during the week. The hold-

A balance of 4,858 sacks of old onions are now held in city cold storages and the bulk of old onions in the state are said to be held at this market. Cold storages in San Francisco reported their holdings of potatoes at 71,660 sacks, an increase of 23,855 sacks for the week. Holdings one year ago amounted to 62,415 sacks. There are no changes in prices to report in the poultry market.

Despite New Lows In Some Issues, Main Body of Stocks Hold

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, May 11.—Further corrective movements, coming simultaneously with continued recovery in some sections of the list, imparted irregularity to today's market, but despite the new lows for the year in Bethlehem Steel and most of the fertilizer issues, the main body of stocks resisted attempts to set the general decline in motion again and a few industrials such as American Can and California Petroleum displayed pronounced strength. Ralls also exhibited a steady tone under the influence of buoyancy in Pere Marquette, which was stimulated by the example set by Pittsburgh and West Virginia in the previous session. Important action was reported in Atchafalaya and Canadian Pacific on the theory that a good market will be made for rails this summer. In fact, the bankers say rails will take the leadership over industrials.

GRAMS AT CLOSE DISPLAY WEAKNESS

Unstable European, American Conditions Play Part In Turndown

CHICAGO, May 11.—Grain continued under orderly liquidation during the day on the Chicago board of trade and at the close displayed weakness. Unstable European and American conditions, together with weaker stock markets, played a prominent part in the downturn. The cash market was very dull and lower. Rains over the drought-stricken areas of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio during the day were beneficial. Although under considerable liquidating pressure, corn rallied slightly, based on continued light receipts and an increase in feeder demands. Oats weakened with other grains. Crop reports continued favorable. Trading in provisions was light.

Prohibition Chief In Fight to Retain Job

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A deliberate campaign to force the resignation of Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes is under way. It has assumed proportions that cause some of Haynes's friends to fear it will succeed. Started by "wets," the campaign is intended to turn the "drys" against Haynes, in the hope that they will demand that he be replaced. The alleged breakdown of prohibition enforcement under Commissioner Haynes's administration is the basis for the attack. Reported widespread corruption in the prohibition force is being used as one argument against Haynes by his enemies, working secretly. They will presently carry their case to President Harding, who before the 1924 campaign will have to face squarely the question of his position in the next campaign on liquor law enforcement.

Mother Lays Death of Son to College Hazing

CHICAGO, May 11.—Mrs. J. L. Mount, frail mother of Leighton Mount, today dramatically refuted hints that her son committed suicide and declared she will fight to bring his slayers to justice. She branded parts of the testimony of President Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern university, before the grand jury as "campus lies." In denying Scott's testimony that she expressed fear to him that Leighton ran away or took his own life, Mrs. Mount accused Scott of inducing her to "keep quiet about developments in the case to protect the school."

Kinks o' the Links

Getting off a long ball from the tee, a player finds that the ball is resting in some casual water through the green, making it impossible to play same. Knowing that under the rules he has a right to life the ball and drop it within two club's lengths of the margin, he does so. There is a slight drop to the ground at the spot where the ball was dropped and it proceeds to roll back into casual water. Has the player the right to again lift the ball and drop it? Is there a penalty attached to the second dropping of the ball? If a player after lifting the ball from casual water, drops Player requests that the flagstick be removed as he makes ready to approach the hole. His caddy removes the flagstick. The player makes a far too strong approach and the ball overruns the hole and strikes the flagstick, held by the player's caddy. Had not the ball struck the flagstick it would probably have rolled into a sand trap on the side of the green. Is there a penalty for the failure of the caddy to get the stick out of the course taken by the ball? Such action on the part of the caddy makes the player liable to the loss of the hole.

LAMBERT NO. 1 AND LAMBERT-HAMPTON ARE IN OIL SANDS!
LAMBERT NO. 1, about 100 feet from the big dividend payer, the Bona Fide Syndicate, is in the oil sand. Six cores have been taken from the LAMBERT-HAMPTON Well, and each core contains thoroughly saturated oil sand; have encountered no indications of water, proving they are in the big gusher sand and is now drilling at about 3600 feet. The valuable lease of L. A. LAMBERT OIL SYNDICATE NO. 2 adjoins the LAMBERT-HAMPTON lease on the south.
SHARE IN 100% OF PRODUCTION!
Our PRODUCTION INTERESTS, no matter whether a 1-10th of 1% or a 1% interest, share in 100% of the production from all the oil and gas from our valuable lease at Signal Hill. Located only 300 to 900 feet from six 3000 barrel producers, right in the famous
"LOVELADY GUSHER POOL" DISTRICT!
PRODUCTION INTERESTS are priced from $200 to $2000 so that the man with only a few hundred dollars can make the kind of an investment an oil man makes—interest in production.
WE BELIEVE THE PROFITS ARE THERE!
It's simply a matter of going after them. We are sparing neither money nor effort to get them. Well No. 2 is now 4000 feet deep and the drill is going deeper and deeper—the big gusher sand is our goal and our well should be on production within 30 to 40 days.
It's up to you to share in this RIGHT OIL INVESTMENT—ACTUAL INTEREST IN PRODUCTION. But don't delay, only a few more PRODUCTION INTERESTS remain unsubscribed.
